

Join the NCPH today!

For three decades, NCPH has promoted professionalism among history practitioners and their collaborative engagement with the public. We are a membership association of consultants, curators, government historians, professors & students, archivists, teachers, cultural resource managers, film & media producers, historical interpreters, policy advisors, and many others. Members confer at the annual meeting each spring and share their expertise in our journal, The Public Historian, the newsletter, Public History News, on the email listserv, H-Public, and in other evolving venues.

Become a member of NCPH and receive:

The Public Historian

— a quarterly journal offering the latest original research, case studies, reviews, and coverage of the ever-expanding international field of public history

Development

— through workshops, working groups, and networks of fellow public history practitioners

Public History News

— a quarterly newsletter of recent developments in the field

Electronic Access

— to the online listserv H-Public, NCPH's LinkedIn and Facebook groups, and individual subscriptions to ACLS Humanities E-book

Annual Meetings

— discounts on registration for national conferences: Pensacola, April 2011, Milwaukee, April 2012

Leadership Opportunities

— help to shape NCPH and the field by serving on committees and task forces

Your membership also supports:

Advocacy Efforts

— NCPH speaks on behalf of the profession and in the public interest on historical issues

Excellence

— $7,000 in annual awards recognizing outstanding projects, consultants, books, articles, students, and more
