Don't want to walk or take the monorail? Consider Lyft or Uber!

These popular ride-sharing apps are generally less expensive than taxis and easier to order! Both require you to download the company's app to your mobile device and create an account. Select the kind of car you want (consider booking a larger vehicle for your group!), enter the pickup and destination addresses, and receive an estimated price and pickup time, along with the driver's name and the make and model of their car. Once you request the ride you will meet the car at the designated location, and payment will be processed at the end of the trip.
