

Senior Architectural Historian – RGA, Inc. (Cranbury, NJ)

RGA, Inc. is seeking a motivated and talented Senior Architectural Historian to work in its Cranbury, New Jersey office. The successful candidate must have at least 10 years' experience and have a Master's degree in History, Architectural History, Historic Preservation or closely related field. Experience in cultural resources management, Section 106 studies and Mid-Atlantic /Northeast architectural history is strongly preferred but not required.

Duties of the Senior Architectural Historian will include managing projects, conducting detailed primary and secondary source historical research, technical report writing, National Register evaluations, and HABS/HAER recordation among others. The ability to conduct intensive archival research (i.e. using deeds, census records, etc.) and to write clear, cogent, and thorough historic contexts is a must. The ideal candidate will be detail oriented, possess strong organizational skills, have the ability to manage priorities, and meet project deadlines and budgets.

The full-time position includes a competitive pay and benefits package, including health and dental insurance; paid vacation, holiday and sick/personal days; and a company 401K plan. Salary will be commensurate with experience.

RGA is one of the largest cultural resource consulting firms in the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast with a staff of professional Historians, Architectural Historians and Archaeologists. If you are interested in working in the firm's relaxed but hard-working environment, please send a resume and cover letter to:
