University of South Carolina
Public History Program

Give yourself an edge in the job market by studying public history at the University of South Carolina. Earn a Master of Arts degree in public history or select public history as one field of study in the Ph.D. program.

Faculty and staff in this award-winning program train students in the core tracks of museum studies, historic preservation, and archives. Situated within a traditional history department, the program also offers interdisciplinary certificates in cultural resource management and museum administration, as well as a joint masters in library science.

Explore our website to learn why there’s a future in public history at the University of South Carolina.

http://www.cas.sc.edu/hist/pubhist
ANNUAL MEETING OF THE
AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY
AND THE
NATIONAL COUNCIL ON PUBLIC HISTORY

10-14 March 2010
Hilton Portland & Executive Tower
Portland, Oregon

CONTENTS
Registration ............................................ 3
Travel Information .................................... 3
Hotel Information .................................... 4
Where to Eat ........................................... 4
Things to See/Do in Portland ....................... 6
Exhibits .................................................. 7
Special Events ........................................ 8
Workshops ............................................. 10
Tours and Field Trips ............................... 12
Conference Program ............................. 14
Schedule at a Glance ............................ 36
Index of Presenters ............................... 50
Registration Form ................................. 69

ASEH and NCPH 2010 Local Arrangements Committee
William Lang, Portland State University (Chair for ASEH)
William Willingham, Portland (Chair for NCPH)
Jennifer Allen, Portland State University
Eliza Canty-Jones, Oregon Historical Society
Steve Fountain, Washington State University-Vancouver
Steve Greenwood, Wells Fargo
Michael Houck, Urban Green Spaces
Henry Kunowski, Historical Research Associates, Inc.-Portland
William Robbins, Oregon State University
Liz Safran, Lewis and Clark College
Gerald Williams, Portland

Thank You 2010 Annual Meeting Sponsors!
Conference Host:
Portland State University

Conference Sponsor:
University of California Press Journals + Digital Publishing
National Park Service

Event Sponsors:
Central Connecticut State University – NCPH New Member/First-Time Attendee Breakfast Cosponsor
Colorado State University – Saturday Morning Coffee Break
Historical Research Associates, Inc – NCPH Consultants Reception Cosponsor
HRA Gray & Pape – NCPH Consultants Reception Cosponsor
John Nicholas Brown Center, Brown University – Public History Educators Breakfast Cosponsor
Littlefield Historical Research - NCPH Consultants Reception Cosponsor
National Park Service – ASEH/National Parks Workshop
Oxford University Press - ASEP Opening Reception Cosponsor
Portland State University – ASEH Opening Reception Cosponsor
University of Washington Press - Thursday Morning Coffee Break Cosponsor

The presentations and commentaries presented during this meeting are solely for those in attendance and should not be taped or recorded or otherwise reproduced without the consent of the presenters, the National Council on Public History, and the American Society for Environmental History. Recording, copying, or reproducing a presentation without the consent of the author is a violation of common law copyright.
ASEH:
This year’s program committee is pleased to present the program for the 2010 meeting of the American Society for Environmental History. The theme “Currents of Change” speaks especially well to the environmental character of the Pacific Northwest, and the plenary session – with its emphasis on the conflicting and changing uses of the Klamath River – highlights important regional issues associated with evolving perceptions of fish, dams, and the way different people value a remarkable waterway. But the theme “Currents of Change” resonates throughout the field of environmental history and is hardly confined to topics with a riparian bent. Thus it proved a generous platform allowing for a rich and diverse set of presentations.

The conference includes 90 regular sessions, a plenary session, a host of posters, and two special workshops. Over 400 scholars and professionals are formally participating in the program. This is a huge number – more than any prior ASEH conference— but it need be noted that the committee could not incorporate into the program all of the session and paper proposals submitted to us. Choices had to be made and we regret that we could not accommodate all the worthy proposals we received. That said, we are extremely proud of the program and believe that everyone attending the conference will find panels, posters, and roundtables of abiding interest. No attempt will made here to recount the tremendous diversity of topics and methodological approaches evident in the following pages. Just check it out for yourself. Res ipsa loquitur—the thing speaks for itself.

The committee’s work is done and now it is up to you to interact with the program in accord with your own intellectual, professional, and personal interests. Everyone will discern a different path through what we believe is an extraordinary collection of presentations and that is exactly how it should be. Take the reins and make it your conference!

ASEH 2010 Program Committee
DC Jackson, Lafayette College, Chair
Lawrence Culver, Utah State University
Emily Greenwald, Historical Research Associates
Bill Lang, Portland State University, Local Arrangements Cochair
William Turkel, University of Western Ontario
Brett Walker, Montana State University

NCPH:
Welcome to Portland! As public historians, many of us are already aware of not only the ways in which our profession is changing but also how history informs our understanding of today's most pressing issues. Working this year with the American Society for Environmental History has allowed us to put together a program to explore these ideas in depth under our conference theme of “Currents of Change.”

NCPH received a record number of proposals and the program committee had the difficult task of determining which of many outstanding submissions should be included in this year’s program. The 2010 program brings together scholars in many different disciplines to discuss an incredible array of topics. This year, the conference will host more working groups than ever before, enabling you to explore ideas in depth with colleagues from across the world. In addition to the working groups, we are pleased to present several workshops on topics ranging from computer-based programs such as Omeka to heritage tourism. Panels and roundtables will also explore issues relating to preservation, curatorial work, the teaching of public history, local history, and oral history.

Portland’s reputation as one of America’s most environmentally-friendly cities makes it an especially appropriate site to exchange ideas on the topic of “Currents of Change.” Although we have planned a full schedule, we hope that you will take the time to explore the city and all it has to offer. The Local Arrangements Committee has done an outstanding job coordinating field trips, including a bicycle tour, which will enable you to see the city as its residents do—from the seat of a bike. The city’s light-rail system will also ensure that you will have the opportunity to explore the town on your own. Be sure to check out the World Forestry Center, the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry, and the Skidmore Old Town Historic District, a unique cast-iron district which is one of the city’s National Historic Landmarks.

So welcome to Portland and be prepared to explore all the city and the conference can offer!

NCPH 2010 Program Committee
Alexandra M. Lord, National Historic Landmarks Program, Chair
Diane Britton, University of Toledo
Laura Ettinger, Clarkson University
Anthea Hartig, National Trust for Historic Preservation
Linda Ivey, California State University, East Bay
Eleanor Mahoney, National Park Service
Stephen Mark, National Park Service
Michelle McClellan, University of Michigan
Dean Oliver, Canadian War Museum
David Warner, University of Maryland, Baltimore County
Anne Mitchell Whisnant, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
William Willingham, Portland, Local Arrangements Cochair
The conference registration fee covers admission to sessions, breaks, exhibit hall, poster session and reception, and public plenary sessions and keynote addresses, Mentoring Network, and other events. The special events listed below require payment of additional fees. All presenters and conference attendees must register for the conference. All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Registration is available online at www.ncph.org or by completing the form at the back of this program. To register by mail, submit the form with a check or credit card information, or fax it with credit card information to (317) 278-5230. (Visa, MasterCard, and American Express credit cards only. Payment in U.S. dollars, please. Check should be made payable to “NCPH.”)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Early Registration (Must be received by February 12, 2010)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Member</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Non-Member</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Single-Day</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Regular and Onsite Registration</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Member</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Non-Member</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Single-Day</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Travel Information

Portland has excellent public transportation, from the bus system to the streetcar line and the light rail. Though much of the city, particularly downtown, can be accessed by walking, one may want to take advantage of the public transportation options.

MAX Light Rail

The MAX (Metropolitan Area Express) has four different lines, each providing transportation from suburban areas, each stopping downtown. All of the lines service the city center. The Red Line provides direct service to and from the Portland International Airport. MAX trains run approximately every five to fifteen minutes, generally between 4:30 am and midnight Monday through Sunday. Tickets for the light rail can be purchased at each stop, with separate machines for cash and credit card purchases. Validated tickets are good for two hours on the MAX, bus and Streetcar. Tickets cost $2.00 for one or two zones or $2.30 for access to all zones. MAX lines that travel through the Fareless Square do not require valid fare.

Streetcar

The Portland Streetcar serves downtown, the Pearl District, and the Northwest/Nob Hill Neighborhood in a continuous eight-mile loop. In downtown, the Streetcar lines run southbound on 11th Avenue and northbound on 10th Avenue, with stops located about every three to four blocks. All of downtown falls in the Fareless Square, which runs south of NW Irving Street and east of Interstate 405 through the Portland State Campus to RiverPlace. Stops outside of the Fareless Square require proof of valid fare. Tickets for the Streetcar can be purchased on board and are valid all day, as well as for two hours on the MAX and bus systems. Tickets cost $2.00 for Zones 1 and 2 and $1.50 for honored citizens. Ticket machines only take cash, either quarters or small bills. The Streetcar runs every day of the week, approximately every twelve minutes, with some variation in the hours: Monday - Thursday 5:30 am to 11:30 pm; Friday 5:30 a.m. to 11:45 p.m.; Saturday 7:15 a.m. to 11:45 p.m. and Sunday 7:15 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.
HOTEL INFORMATION

Did you know that where you stay during the conference makes a difference? Both ASEH and NCPH are contractually committed to filling a block of sleeping rooms at the conference hotel (at a reduced rate for attendees), and in return the hotel provides meeting space for the sessions and other events. Since most attendees choose to lodge at the conference hotel, everyone benefits from lower registration fees.

When registering, please indicate to the reservationist whether you are an ASEH member or an NCPH member. If you are an ASEH member, please request the ASEH block of rooms. If you are an NCPH member, please request the NCPH block of rooms.

Hilton Portland & Executive Tower
921 SW Sixth Avenue
Portland, Oregon, USA, 97204
(503) 226-1611
www.hilton.com

Rates:
$137/night for single or double
$119/night for students

Reservations must be made by February 9, 2010 to receive this rate. Space is limited. Please indicate whether you are reserving a room in the ASEH or NCPH room block.

Directions to Portland Hilton From Portland International Airport (PDX), on the MAX Light Rail (Red Line): Follow the airport signs for the MAX/light rail. You will be taking the Red Line towards City Center/Beaverton Transit Center. The line begins at the airport, so there will be no confusion about the direction to take the train. Tickets for the light rail can be purchased either inside the airport or at the ticket machine immediately to the right of the train. Purchase tickets for all zones (fare is $2.30), as you will be traveling through Zones 1, 2, and 3 from the airport to downtown. Get off at the Pioneer Square South stop. Walk south two blocks on SW Broadway. Turn LEFT on SW Taylor Street. Walk east two blocks on SW Taylor Street. Turn RIGHT on SW 6th Avenue. The entrance to the Main building of the Hilton will be on the left-hand side of SW 6th Avenue.

From Portland International Airport, Driving: Take I-205 South and exit onto I-84 West. At the end of I-84 West you will reach a junction of I-5 North and South. Go South toward Salem. Following the City Center signs, crossing the Morrison Bridge. Go straight through the traffic light onto SW Washington Street. Stay on Washington Street for one block, then turn LEFT onto 3rd Avenue. Remain on 3rd Avenue for four blocks, then turn RIGHT on SW Taylor Street. Follow Taylor Street for four blocks, turning LEFT onto SW Boulevard, then LEFT again on SW Salmon Street and finally LEFT onto 6th Avenue. The entrance to the Main building of the Hilton will be on the left-hand side of SW 6th Avenue.

From North (Seattle), Southbound on Interstate 5, Driving: Take exit 300B off of I-5 Southbound. After exiting, follow the City Center signs, driving across the Morrison Bridge. Head straight through the traffic light near the end of the bridge onto SW Washington Street. Take Washington Street one block and then turn LEFT onto 3rd Avenue. Take 3rd Avenue four blocks and then turn RIGHT onto SW Taylor St. Take Taylor 3 blocks and our front doors for the Executive Tower will be on your right-hand side. To arrive at the MAIN building, continue on SW Taylor 1 block and turn LEFT onto SW Broadway, LEFT on Salmon Street, LEFT on SW 6th Avenue, the main building front doors are on left-hand side of the 6th Avenue.

From South, Northbound on Interstate 5, Driving: Take exit 299B off of I-5 Northbound (LEFT exit) onto I-405 North. Drive 1.4 miles and take Exit 2A for Salmon Street. After taking exit ramp back over the interstate, keep RIGHT. Turn RIGHT onto SW Salmon Street. Travel 8 blocks east on SW Salmon Street (0.4 miles). Turn LEFT onto SW 6th Avenue where the Main building front doors will be on the left hand side of the street.

From East, Westbound on Interstate 84, Driving: Follow directions from Portland International Airport

From Union Station (AMTRAK) on the MAX Light Rail: This trip is entirely within the Fareless Square, so do not worry about paying for a fare. Take Green or Yellow Line from Union Station/NW 5th and Glisan MAX Station southbound. Get off at Pioneer Place/SW 5th Avenue MAX Station. Walk one block south on SW 5th Avenue. Turn RIGHT on SW Taylor Street. Walk one block west on SW Taylor. Turn LEFT on SW 6th Avenue. Main building front doors will be on the right-hand side of the street.

WHERE TO EAT (Distances noted are walking distance from the downtown Hilton)

In the hotel
Bistro 921 Restaurant
Casual dining, offering breakfast, lunch and dinner. Prices range between $10 and $25. 921 SW 6th Avenue. (503) 226-1611

Downtown
Porto Terra Tuscan Grill & Bar
An Italian inspired menu featuring Northwest ingredients. Open for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Prices range between $15 and $25.

830 SW 6th Avenue. (503) 944-1090. Less than 0.2 miles.

Flying Elephant Delicatessen
Popular deli open from 6:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., offering coffee, soda, pastries, sandwiches and hot food made daily. Prices range between $5 and $10. 812 SW Park Avenue. (503) 546-3166. 0.2 miles.

Heathman Restaurant and Bar
Menu changes daily to reflect local and seasonal ingredients, influenced by French cuisine. Prices range between $20 and $30. 1001 SW Broadway. (503) 790-7752. 0.2 miles.

Pizzicato
A Portland chain since 1989, featuring artisan pizza, panini, and salads. Prices range between $5 and $20. 705 SW Alder. (503) 226-1007. 0.3 miles.

Blueplate
Classic Americana in the form of a lunch counter and soda shoppe. Open for lunch during the week only. Lunch prices range from $6 to $10, with ice cream beverages averaging $4. 308 SW Washington Street. (503) 295-2583. 0.4 miles.

Saucebox
Pan Asian fusion cuisine, known for its innovative food and cocktails. Prices range between $8 and $25. 214 SW Ankeny. (503) 241-3393. 0.4 miles.

Minotto’s Cafe & Deli
A family owned Italian food specialty shop featuring a charming cafe offering sandwiches and various deli items. Prices range between $5 and $7. 404 SW 10th Avenue. (503) 224-9028. 0.4 miles.

Veritable Quandary
Seasonal, local ingredients put together in interesting combinations. This gem has been open for more than thirty years, serving lunch and dinner, as well as a famous Sunday brunch. Prices range between $15 and $30. 1220 SW 1st Avenue. (503) 227-7342. 0.4 miles.
WHERE TO EAT (Distances noted are walking distance from the downtown Hilton)

Bijou Café
A local favorite, featuring breakfast and lunch utilizing seasonal ingredients in a cozy setting. Prices range between $10 and $17. 132 SW 3rd Avenue. (503) 228-3333. 0.5 miles.

Clyde Common
Innovative cooking with local products in a modern setting, open for lunch and dinner. Prices range between $10 and $15. 212 SW Stark Street. (503) 222-5608. 0.9 miles. Also accessible by streetcar.

Jake’s Famous Crawfish Restaurant
A Portland landmark, open for more than a hundred years. Considered one of the nation’s top seafood restaurants, offering lunch and dinner, as well as a more economical happy hour menu. Prices range between $10 and $25. 1014 SW Stark. (503) 228-9060. 0.5 miles.

Kenny & Zuke’s Delicatessen
Comforting deli food in a hip, urban setting. Famous for their pastrami, but their breakfast, lunch, and dinner menus also feature several vegetarian friendly choices. Prices range between $9 and $14. 1038 SW Stark Street. (503) 222-3354. 0.5 miles.

McMenamins
The McMenamin brothers have opened countless pubs, restaurants, theatres, and hotels across Oregon and Washington, by restoring historic structures. There are several locations in Portland alone and they are great places for cheap food, craft beer, and a bit of history. Meals cost typically between $8 and $15, beers $4-$5, but happy hour prices run as low as $3 for burgers.

Market Street Pub
1526 SW 10th Avenue. (503) 497-0160. 0.5 miles.

Ringlers Annex
1223 SW Stark Street. (503) 525-0520. 0.6 miles.

Ringlers Pub in the Crystal Ballroom
1332 W. Burnside. (503) 225-0627. 0.7 miles.

Mother’s Bistro & Bar
Comfort food in an elegant setting, open for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Perhaps best known for its Sunday brunch, often an hour’s wait for a table, but well worth it. Prices range between $12 and $20. 212 SW Stark Street. (503) 464-1122. 0.5 miles.

Stumptown Coffee
Portland is a coffee crazed town. Stumptown is a hip coffee house and roasters, arguably the most popular in the city, with several locations to choose from. Various coffee beverages available, as well as fresh pastries. Prices are typically less expensive than national chains. 1026 SW Stark Street. (503) 224-9060. 0.5 miles. Open 6:00 am to 10:00 pm. 128 SW 3rd Avenue. (503) 295-6144. 0.5 miles. Open 7:00 am to 9:00 pm

Voodoo Donuts
From the décor to the eclectic menu, this is one of the city’s most famous food destinations. Donut offerings include maple bacon bars, jelly filled voodoo dolls, and countless cereal topped varieties. Open 24 hours. Donuts cost around $1 to $3 each. Cash only. 22 SW 3rd Avenue. (503) 241-4704. 0.6 miles.

Dan & Louis Oyster Bar
The oldest family owned restaurant in Portland offering signature seafood dishes. 208 SW Ankeny. (503) 227-5906. 0.6 miles. Prices range between $10 and $25.

Food Carts
One of the most unique parts of Portland’s food scene is the presence of dozens of food carts. Many are located downtown. All are open for lunch during the week and some offer breakfast and dinner options. Cuisine options range from the gamut from Dim Sum to pizza, Korean to Kazakhstani, and countless vegan varieties. For cheap eats, frequent any of the food cart pods downtown, where lunch can run as inexpensively as $3 a meal.

SW 6th and Yamhill. 0.3 miles. Popular options: Fuego Burritos, Philly Cheesesteaks and Burgers, Honkin’ Huge Burritos.

Pearl District
The Pearl District is the latest part of Portland to be re-developed. LEED certified new construction and renovated warehouses mingle in this urban neighborhood. The Pearl is accessible by the Streetcar, with various stops northbound along 10th Avenue and southbound along 11th Avenue. Stops anywhere downtown and between W. Burnside and NW Irving Street fall in the fareless square.

Fuller’s Coffee Shop
A popular diner since 1941, it’s an example of classic Portland. Serving standard diner fare for breakfast and dinner in an historic setting. Cash only. Prices range between $6 and $9. 136 SW 9th Avenue. (503) 222-5608. 0.6 miles. Also accessible by streetcar.

Byways Café
A breakfast-centric restaurant with delightfully kitschy décor. Offering breakfast and lunch during the week, breakfast only on the weekends. Prices range between $8 and $11. 1212 NW Glisan Street. (503) 221-0011. 0.9 miles. Also accessible by streetcar.

Tea Zone & Camellia Lounge
Home to Portland’s largest selection of tea, from hot tea to bubble tea to various infusions and elixirs, this café also features a full menu and display case full of tempting sweets. Open 8:00 am to midnight. Prices range between $1 and $10. 510 NW 11th Avenue. (503) 221-2130. 0.9 miles. Also accessible by streetcar.
THINGS TO DO/SEE IN PORTLAND

By Carl Abbott

(Eastside Esplanade/Willamette River Loop: The Eastside Esplanade stretches for 1.5 miles along the Willamette River across from downtown. It offers great views of the city and has some cool public art. It can be accessed by pedestrians from the Hawthorne Bridge, the Morrison Bridge, and the Steel Bridge. The full loop, starting from the Marriott, crossing the Hawthorne Bridge, heading north to the Steel Bridge, and returning via Waterfront Park is a bit under 4 miles. www.40mileloop.org/trail_esplanade.htm)

Oregon Maritime Museum: The museum is housed in the sternwheeler tug Portland, moored on the Willamette River seawall at the foot of Pine Street. Portland has a rich heritage of maritime commerce, with a modern port that is a major automobile importer and exporter of bulk commodities. It struggles to compete with Puget Sound and California for container cargo. The sternwheeler, built as a working tug in 1947, is really impressive. www.oregonmaritimemuseum.org

Oregon Museum of Science and Industry: OMSI lies on the east side of the river, a short distance south of the Hawthorne Bridge. It is a typical family-oriented science museum, complete with Omnimax theater and submarine. There are views toward the city from the riverside walk in front of the building, with good signage about riverine geology and history (because I contributed the text). www.omsi.org

Japanese American Historical Plaza: At the northern end of Waterfront Park, just north of the Burnside Bridge, is a powerfully rendered landscape that comments on the World War II internment of Japanese Americans. See the Paul Bunyan statue in the Kenton neighborhood, a leftover from the Oregon Centennial Exposition of 1959. trimet.org/max/index.htm

Interstate MAX: The shortest segment of Portland’s light rail system is a six-mile line through North Portland. Board downtown and ride to the end of the line. See very interesting public art at the stops, especially the installation memorializing the World War II internment of Japanese Americans. See the Paul Bunyan statue in the Kenton neighborhood, a leftover from the Oregon Centennial Exposition of 1959. trimet.org/max/index.htm

Oregon Zoo/Washington Park: For an energetic expedition, take westside MAX into its deep tunnel to the zoo stop and ride the elevator to the surface. There you can visit the Oregon Zoo or the World Forestry Center, an industry sponsored museum. Walk uphill from the station to access trails through Washington Park. You can follow them roughly downhill (northeast) for about a mile to the Rose Test Gardens and the Japanese Garden (open 10-4). From here you can take the No. 63 bus back into the center of the city, or walk another two miles (it’s almost all downhill). www.oregonzoo.org; www.washingtonparkpdx.org

The World Forestry Center: located in Portland’s beautiful Washington Park; includes a museum where visitors can learn about the sustainability of forests and trees of the Pacific Northwest and around the world. The World Forestry Center also operates two working forests managed according to the principles of sustainable forestry. www.worldforestry.org

Westside MAX: Take the westside light rail line into the suburbs to the Orenco stop in Washington County. Get off and check out a new urbanist development. Is it impressively urbane or distressingly small? The wave of the future or a Potemkin Village? Judge for yourself. trimet.org/max/index.htm

Old Town: Portland’s nightlife of clubs and music venues is fairly scattered. One concentration of clubs is the Old Town area, north of Burnside between 1st and 4th. It tends to attract suburbanites ages 18-32. Gay-oriented clubs cluster north of Burnside between 1st and 4th. It tends to attract suburbanites ages 18-32. Gay-oriented clubs cluster south of Burnside between 9th and 12th. For detailed information about the music and club scene, see the free weekly papers Willamette Week and Portland Mercury. www.oldtownchinatown.org

South Park Blocks Cultural Institutions: The South Park Blocks are the site for Portland’s big ticket cultural institutions.

Portland State University: anchors the southern end of this wide boulevarded expanse. www.pdx.edu

Portland Art Museum: This is a third-level museum with big ambitions. There is a small but good collection of the native arts of the Northwest coast. www.pam.org

Portland Center for the Performing Arts: in a complex of new and refurbished theaters. www.pcpa.com

Architectural Heritage Center: The AHC is a nonprofit resource center for historic preservation in the Portland area. Located in restored 1883 cast-iron building in the eastside historic commercial district, the AHC offers a range of research opportunities, educational programs, and exhibits related to its extensive collection of architectural elements, building parts, and period hardware. This collection of architectural artifacts is the largest west of the Mississippi River. It is located at 701 SE Grand Avenue and open Wednesday through Saturday, 10:00 to 4:30 pm. www.visitahc.org

Pearl District/River District: North of Burnside Street, from the North Park Blocks west to I-405, is the so-called Pearl District. Like many cities, Portland has seen an explosion of demand for downtown apartments and condos. Fifteen years ago, this was a warehouse district with some artists and galleries. Now it is full of... expensive condos, high end galleries, and interior design stores. Hop on the Portland Streetcar, which runs along 10th, and ride north into the district. Look for some privately financed public art, including totem poles and a giant dog dish. Enjoy Jamison Square and Tanner Creek Springs, two new parks with deliberately contrasting character. Speculate how many empty nesters with good retirement incomes it takes to fill all the space. pearldistrict.com/about_the_pearl_district.html

Powell's Bookstore: Powells is an institution, claiming (probably accurately) to be the country's largest independent bookstore. It is big, with a vast selection of new and used books. It is on the Portland Streetcar, so you don’t have to lug your purchases all the way back to the hotel on foot. A block away, at 921 SW Oak, is Reading Frenzy, a fun bookstore that specializes in comics, obscure magazines, independent zines, and the like. www.powells.com; www.readingfrenzy.com

Aerial Tram: connects the Oregon Health and Sciences University (perched stupidly on a hilltop south of downtown) with the south waterfront, where industrial lands are in the process of conversion to high-rise development (interrupted by the real estate downturn). The tram whisks medical researchers back and forth between the hospitals on the hill and research facilities along the river. Civilians can ride it for $5 for a great view across the east side of Portland, where many of the city's cool people and cool neighborhoods can be found. www.portlandtram.org

The aerial tram connects with the southern extension of the Portland Streetcar, which extends through the western side of downtown through the Pearl District to Northwest Portland. The Streetcar connects three of the city's key intellectual institutions: Portland State University, the Multnomah County Central Library, and Powell's. www.portlandstreetcar.org

To find out more about Portland:

Chuck Palahniuk, Fugitives and Refugees: A Walk in Portland, Oregon is a quick and quirky guide to some of Portland's oddest corners, although some of its facts are highly suspect. But, hey, Chuck is a novelist.

Carl Abbott, Greater Portland: Urban Life and Landscape in the Pacific Northwest is a historically based character study of Portland and its metropolitan region.

Connie Ozawa, ed., The Portland Edge: Challenges and Successes in Growing Communities is a recent current assessment of Portland area planning initiatives.

Child Care

Creative Childcare Solutions can provide babysitting services to Portland hotel guests. Call (503) 518-2274 for more information. The Facebook pages for ASEH and NCPH would be a good place to post requests to trade babysitting services with fellow conference attendees.

Commitment to Sustainability

For a description of carbon credits, see www.aseh.net/conferences/current-conference

ASEH and NCPH will ensure that waste at the hotel is recycled, and we will provide recycling containers on the field trip/tour buses. We will recycle the name badges, and are working with the hotel to get locally grown food for our events. Walking tours are provided (see section of conference program listing field trips), and information on local public transportation is provided on page 3.

Questions

John Dichtl, NCPH Executive Director (317) 274-2716; jdichtl@iupui.edu
Carrie Dowdy, NCPH Program Director (317) 274-2716; dowdy@iupui.edu
DC Jackson, ASEH Program Chair (610) 350-5171; jacksond@lafayette.edu
Alexandra Lord, NC PH Program Chair (202) 354-6906; Alexandra_Lord@nps.gov
Lisa Mighetto, ASEH Executive Director (206) 465-0630; director@aseh.net

Exhibits

We invite you to visit the numerous book publishers and organizations exhibiting in the Grand Ballroom I throughout the conference. The Poster Sessions will also be held in this area on Saturday, March 13. Complimentary coffee breaks will be held in the Exhibit Hall.

Exhibit Hours

Thursday, March 11 – 8:00 am – 5:00 pm
Friday, March 12 – 8:00 am – 12:00 pm
Saturday, March 13 – 8:00 am – 5:00 pm

Exhibitors (as of February 6, 2010)

American Society for Environmental History
Arizona State University - Public History Program - School of Historical, Philosophical, and Religious Studies
Forest History Society
Lookbackmaps
National Endowment for the Humanities
National Council on Public History
NCPH Authors
Ninth Judicial Circuit Historical Society
Oregon State University Press
Oxford University Press
Penguin Group (USA)
Quatrefoil Associates
RFF Press/Earthscan
Scholar's Choice
Society for the History of Technology
University of Arizona Press
University of California Press
University of Georgia Press
University of Massachusetts Press
University of Nevada Press
University of Pittsburgh Press
University of Virginia Press
University of Washington Press
Vintage Roadside
Washington State Archives
Yale University Press

Interested in exhibiting or sponsoring an event? It's not too late! Visit www.aseh.net or www.ncph.org for more details.
SPECIAL EVENTS

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

ASEH Floating Seminar, Willamette River
Wednesday, March 10
12:00 pm – 4:00 pm
Tickets—$38
Lunch included
Meet in hotel lobby at 12:00 noon. We will walk from the hotel to the dock at the end of SW Salmon Street—a distance of about six blocks, located in downtown Portland, along the Willamette River. Our boat, the Willamette Star, will depart at 12:30 PM. The boat has a covered cabin, but we recommend bringing an umbrella and rain jacket as well as camera and binoculars. Speakers:
• Carl Abbott, Urban Studies and Planning, Portland State University
• Jorge Guadalupe Lizárraga, Diversity Faculty Fellow, Washington State University
• Mike Houck, Urban Green Spaces
• Steven Holmes, Environmental Science, University of Portland
• Bob Salinger, Audubon Society
• Joseph Taylor, Department of History, University of Portland
As the Willamette Star cruises along the Willamette River, the speakers and passengers will discuss a variety of issues, including urban planning, salmon management, forestry, past land and water use, and the effect of contamination on local communities. We will specifically discuss the Portland Harbor Superfund Site.

ASEH Opening Reception
Wednesday, March 10
6:00 pm – 8:00 pm
Tickets—$6
Location: Pavilion Ballroom, Plaza Level
Join us for light appetizers. Cash bar provided.
Cosponsored by Portland State University and Oxford University Press

ASEH Sustainability Breakfast
Thursday, March 11
7:15 am – 8:15 am
Tickets—$22
Location: Alexander’s, 23rd floor
Organized by ASEH’s Sustainability Committee

NCPH First-Time Attendee & New Member Breakfast
Thursday, March 11
7:30 am – 8:30 am
Tickets—$22
Join members of the NCPH Board of Directors, the Membership Committee, and participants in the Mentoring Network program for conversation, coffee, and a breakfast buffet. This is a great way to meet new and old members of the organization and to learn more about NCPH, the conference, and the field of public history.

ASEH Awards Lunch Banquet
Thursday, March 11
12:00 pm – 1:15 pm
Tickets—$38
Location: Pavilion Ballroom, Plaza Level
Join us for lunch and presentation of ASEHs awards, including best book, articles, and dissertation in environmental history as well as the Distinguished Scholar Award.

NCPH Speed Networking
Thursday, March 11
3:30 pm – 5:15 pm
Free—Ticket required
NCPH has put a professional twist on ‘speed dating’ creating stress-free networking opportunities at the annual meeting. Graduate students, recent graduates, and new professionals will have the opportunity to meet with five established public history practitioners for fifteen minute intervals. Before the buzzer sounds, participants can discuss career options, professional development, and any other aspects of the field. (See the Speed Networking listing in the body of this program for a list of guest practitioners whom the networkers will be meeting.) Advance registration is required. After the final rotation, participants have the opportunity to mingle in a free-flowing atmosphere in the Mentoring and Networking Reception. Last year’s speed networkers and anyone participating in this year’s mentor program will also be invited to join us for this portion of the program.

NCPH Committee Mixer
Thursday, March 11
5:00 pm – 6:00 pm
Meet members of the NCPH Nominating Committee, Board of Directors, and other committees for informal conversation in the hotel bar over drinks. (BYOD) We are looking for people interested in serving the organization and the field on committees and task forces and in the NCPH leadership. All skills are needed. Being new to the field is a good thing, being around for awhile is equally good. Members of the board and various committees will be on hand to answer questions and take names. We want you!

ASEH Plenary Session
Thursday, March 11
5:30 pm – 7:15 pm
Location: Pavilion Ballroom, Plaza Level
Dam Removal on the Klamath: Water, Environment, Fish, Power, and People
Through most of the 20th century, the benefits offered by dams held sway over the public mind. But in recent decades, a rethinking of how humans interact with the environment has brought the costs associated with dams to the forefront. In the Pacific Northwest, special attention has focused on the devastation brought by dams to spawning fish populations and to the people culturally bound to these fisheries. The ongoing Klamath River controversy provides an opportunity to explore how—in a specific, real world context—myriad interest groups and communities are grappling with the challenges and opportunities presented by the possibility of large-scale dam removal. For the Plenary Session, residents and organizational representatives now involved in bringing change to the Klamath Basin will present their viewpoints and invite/spur audience comments and questions. In addition, Nancy Langston (ASEH Past President), Stephen Most (producer of the acclaimed documentary film River of Renewal), and dam historian DC Jackson will offer background and moderate the discussion.

NCPH Consultants Reception
Thursday, March 11
5:30 pm – 7:00 pm
Free—Ticket required
Interested in consulting and contract work? Join new and experienced consultants at an informal reception for lively conversation, hors d’oeuvres, and drinks. We hope to continue and further conversations generated in sessions and the working groups, as well as discuss how best to promote and support the work of public history consultants.

Cosponsored by Historical Research Associates, Inc., HRA Gray and Pape, the Consultants Committee, and Littlefield Historical Research

Dine Arouns
Thursday, March 11
6:30 pm – 9:00 pm
Sign up at conference
Volunteer facilitators will suggest topics for discussion and lead small groups to nearby restaurants for an evening of collegial conversation. Sign up onsite in the conference registration area.

Graduate Student Reception
Thursday, March 11
8:00 pm – 9:00 pm
Location: Alexander’s, 23rd floor
ASEH and NCPH are combining their graduate student receptions this year. Come meet your colleagues for hors d’oeuvres, drinks, and camaraderie. There will be door prizes!

Cosponsored by the Graduate Student Committee

NCPH Public History Educator Breakfast
Friday, March 12
7:00 am – 8:30 am
Location: Alexander’s, 23rd floor
This annual event is an opportunity for faculty to share ideas about running graduate and undergraduate public history programs and to talk about university, departmental, and a wide variety of other issues. The discussion is always lively.

Cosponsored by the NCPH Curriculum and Training Committee

ASEH Forest History Society Breakfast
Friday, March 12
7:15 am – 8:15 am
Location: Alexander’s, 23rd floor
Organized by the Forest History Society

ASEH Mini Film Festival
Friday, March 12
7:00 pm – 10:00 pm
Location: Pavilion Ballroom, Plaza Level
Organized by ASEH’s Diversity Committee
Steve Most, producer of River of Renewal – the winner of the best documentary award at this year’s American Indian Film Festival—will introduce his film about the Klamath Basin controversy (the subject of ASEH’s plenary session on Thursday evening). From 9:00 pm – 10:00 pm we will show March Point, a new documentary about how three youths from the Swinomish Tribe in Washington State investigated contamination of the waters adjacent to their reservation.

NCPH Public Plenary Session
Friday, March 12
8:00 pm – 9:30 pm
Adam Hochschild is an award-winning author and journalist who has used history to reveal the lingering effects of past iniquities on the present. His most recent work, Bury the Chains: Prophets and Rebels in the Fight to Free an Empire’s Slaves, was a finalist for the 2005 National Book Award. The Unquiet Ghost: Russians Remember Stalin (1994) is a deeply moving exploration of history and memory shortly after the end of the Cold War. It was primarily because of King Leopold’s Ghost (1998), which brought to light the horrors of Belgian colonial rule in the Congo, that the American Historical Association awarded Hochschild the 2009 AHA Theodore Roosevelt-Woodrow Wilson Prize. According to the AHA, “Hochschild’s book triggered the first open national discussion of imperial injustices and eventually spurred other investigations and led to an official apology being tendered by the Belgian government, underlining the quiet power that a well-researched and well-written history text could exert in the public sphere.” (AHA Perspectives on History, December 2008). Hochschild has been a reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle, a commentator on National Public Radio’s “All Things Considered,” and an editor and writer at Mother Jones magazine.

ASEH Fun Run Fundraiser for Hal Rothman Fellowship
Saturday, March 13
6:30 am
Meet in Portland Hilton lobby
Join us for the first annual “Run for the Hal of It” Fun(d) Run, a walk/run event to benefit the Hal Rothman Research Fellowship for graduate students. Participants will meet in the lobby before departing for a 5K (3.1 mile) walk or run (your choice) along the Willamette River and returning to the hotel. It’s not a competition—it’s just a chance to start the day with a little exercise and maybe win a cool door prize! For more information and entry forms, visit: www.aseh.net/conferences/current-conference. Although there will be same-day registration, we strongly encourage advance registration, available at the website listed above. Event t-shirts and other items may be purchased in advance at: www.zazzle.com/halrothmanfund. If you have questions, please contact the organizer, Jamie Lewis, at jglewis@duke.edu.

ASEH Envirotech Breakfast
Saturday, March 13
7:15 am – 8:15 am
Tickets—$22
Location: Alexander’s, 23rd floor

ASEH Poster Presentations
Saturday, March 13
10:00 am – 10:30 am
Location: Grand Ballroom, Ballroom Level

NCPH Awards Luncheon and Presidential Address
Saturday, March 13
12:00 pm – 2:00 pm
Tickets—$40
The annual awards luncheon and the president’s biannual address are open to all conference registrants, though a ticket is required for the luncheon meal. Attendees without meal tickets are welcome to the seating in the back for the business meeting, awards ceremony, and presidential address.

NCPH Poster Presentations
Saturday, March 13
3:00 pm – 5:00 pm

ASEH Business Meeting
Saturday, March 13
5:30 pm – 6:00 pm
Location: Alexander’s, 23rd floor
President Harriet Ritvo will discuss ASEH’s programs and initiatives. All members welcome.

Joint Banquet
Saturday, March 13
7:00 pm – 9:00 pm
Tickets—$50
Location: Pavilion Ballroom, Plaza Level
Join us for a “Taste of Portland” and an after-dinner talk by Jack Ohman, cartoonist for The Oregonian, who will speak about his portrayal of regional issues over time. Includes a free raffle of the year’s prize-winning books for NCPH and ASEH. A jazz ensemble from Portland State University will perform for dinner guests after the banquet. Cash bar provided.
Workshops
All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Wednesday, March 10
9:00 am – 4:00 pm
ASEH Workshop #1
People, Place, and Voice: Oral History Basics
Cost: $65 per person
Location: Alexander’s, 23rd floor
Limited to 30 participants; Registration Required
Presenters:
Dr. Katrine Barber, Director, Center for Columbia River History, and PSU Professor of History
Cherstin Lyon, California State University, San Bernardino
Donna Sinclair, Program Manager, Center for Columbia River History, and President, Northwest Oral History Association

This workshop will focus on the collection and use of oral history by public historians, environmental historians, and the broader heritage and history community. Emphasis will be on the role of oral history in documenting and interpreting the past and the practical skills and knowledge needed to conduct and preserve recorded interviews. Attendees will share project experience and ideas, explore oral history strategy, conduct practice interviews, and participate in group discussion. The workshop will examine oral history preparation, choosing and using equipment, interview techniques, and the role of archives in oral history production and use. Attendees will receive a copy of the “Idaho Field Notebook for Oral History” and a free one-year membership in the Northwest Oral History Association. This will be an ideal learning experience for the novice and a great review and networking opportunity for public and environmental historians.

Thursday, March 11
3:30 pm-5:30 pm
NCPH Workshop #2
Heritage Tourism for the 21st Century: Reaching Broader Audiences through the GPS Powered Next Exit History Program
Cost: $10
Limited to 20 Participants, Registration Required
Presenters: Jay Clune, Patrick Moore, and Tim Roberts, University of West Florida

The vision of Next Exit HistoryTM is to provide the public with accurate and captivating historical content on historic towns, sites, landscapes and other areas of cultural significance delivered automatically to them based on their physical relation to the site itself. Beyond the delivery of high quality historical and cultural information, the Next Exit HistoryTM program combines the newly created iShareHistoryTM social networking platform designed to allow users the opportunity to share their own site specific historical experiences to friends via mobile devices. The workshop will combine presentations by the Next Exit HistoryTM invention team, discussions about the potential uses, market demographics, and interpretive value of the program, and hands on demonstrations of the how to utilize the Next Exit HistoryTM program. Attendees will also be provided with written guides regarding the project and how to navigate the entry system and database. Participants will leave the workshop with the skills and knowledge necessary to efficiently utilize and navigate the Next Exit HistoryTM database and entry system.

Thursday, March 11
8:00 am – 5:00 pm
ASEH Workshop #2
Environmental History and the National Parks
Free—Sign Up Required
Location: Pavilion Ballroom
Limited to 50 Participants, Registration Required
Sponsored by the National Park Service

To sign up, contact Lisa Mighetto at director@aseh.net and indicate your interest in attending the morning session, afternoon site visit, or both. Please sign up only if you are certain that you will attend.

Morning Session Speakers:
Welcome and Introduction by Robert Sutton and David Louter, National Park Service
Timothy Babalis, National Park Service; Rebecca Conard, Middle Tennessee State University; Rolf Diamant, National Park Service; Jim Feldman, University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh; Mark Fiege, University of Colorado; Phil Scarpino, Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis; Mark Spence, HistoryCraft, Oregon

It is the mission of the NPS to interpret the nation’s past—and the work of the Second Century Commission and the Ken Burns series reflect on the role of the national parks in this mission. The workshop in Portland is an opportunity to bring environmental history into this discussion—and is a preliminary step toward forming a national panel of environmental historians to analyze the national parks and the role of our scholarship in public interpretation.
Afternoon Site Visit: Columbia River Highway, including a visit to Multnomah Falls and historic bridge. Board bus at 12:00 pm; box lunches provided. Site visit speakers: Larry Lipin, Pacific University, Oregon and Bob Hadlow, Oregon Department of Transportation.
Note: Workshop will be limited to 50 people for morning and afternoon sections (owing to need for discussion, amount of food and coffee available, and seats on the bus)
ASEH Student Assistants: Neel Baumgardner and Alison Marie Steiner

---

Saturday, March 13
4:30 pm – 6:30 pm
NCPH Workshop #4
Omeka: An Open Source Tool for Publishing Cultural Heritage Online
Cost: $10
Limited to 20 Participants, Registration Required
Presenters: Jeremy Boggs and Sheila Brennan, Center for History and New Media, George Mason University

The Center for History and New Media at George Mason University (CHNM) has developed Omeka, a next-generation Web publishing tool that will enhance the ability of museums to showcase their collections and content online. Omeka is designed specifically for smaller history museums and cultural heritage sites that may not have the resources or expertise to create and maintain their own online tools. This open-source Web tool will offer an easy professional way for museums to display their content online. Workshop participants will leave workshop with the following knowledge and skills: an introduction to Omeka and brief background on developing the software, with knowledge of different types of websites created with Omeka; an understanding of Omeka’s basic functionality, including adding items and building a small online exhibit; knowledge of how Omeka’s use of data standards or object metadata, including Dublin Core, allows it to interface with other systems via OAI and other interoperability standards; ideas for customizing Omeka to suit institutional needs, whether that's integrating user-generated content into their website, or easily displaying and exhibiting archival collections; the necessary knowledge to setup an Omeka installation, and where to find help. Participants should bring a laptop computer with wireless internet capabilities.

---

Mentoring Network

Are you new to NCPH or ASEH or attending the annual meeting for the first time? Would you welcome advice about getting the most out of the conference experience or being introduced to other professionals during the conference? Or, are you a veteran of NCPH or ASEH and conferences who is willing to mentor? If you would like to meet a mentor in Portland, or be a mentor, please e-mail ncph@iupui.edu or director@aseh.net or check the appropriate box on the registration form. Mentors and mentees will be put in contact with one another prior to the meeting. We encourage mentors and mentees to meet at an event early in the conference, such as the Networking and Mentoring Reception on Thursday, March 11, from 4:45 pm until 5:15 pm.
Please note that there are two walking tours listed below, and that information on alternate sites of local interest and public transportation is provided on page 4 of this conference program. If you are not going on a tour or field trip, Friday afternoon is a good time to explore the city on your own.

All buses board at 12:15 pm on Friday, March 12 and leave promptly at 12:30 pm. Buses will be located on Salmon and Broadway, adjacent to the hotel. Check the signs in the hotel lobby for your field trip number and the specific location of your bus. Box lunches will be provided. As always in the Pacific Northwest, be prepared for the rain that makes the area west of the Cascade Mountains so green. Most buses will return to the hotel around 5:00 PM.

1. Columbia River/Bonneville Dam—guided by staff of Northwest Power and Conservation Council; will address dam and hydropower issues, salmon-passage system, and historic buildings; will stop at overlook for view of Columbia River Gorge. (Limit 48 participants)

2. Birding at Sauvie Island on Columbia River with Audubon Society guide—great place to see waterfowl and raptors. (Limit 48 participants)

3. Fort Vancouver and Cathlapotle Plankhouse—exploration of Hudson’s Bay Company fort and Columbia River Chinook archaeology site. (Limit 48 participants)

4. Tryon Creek State Natural Area—short walk through urban forest and tour of historic iron smelter in nearby Lake Oswego. (Limit 48 participants)

5. Bicycle tour of Portland guided by Portland bicycling specialist—most of the route through this urban area is flat; be prepared for rain. (Limit 20 participants)

6. Mt. St. Helens Visitors Center at Silver Lake—includes interpretive talk and short walk. If the road is open in March, the bus will also travel to Hoffstadt Bluffs for a closer view of the volcano, near the blast zone. Note: this tour could include up to 3 hours of driving time, and might return to Portland at 6:00 pm. (Limit 48 participants)

7. Organic winery—tasting and tour of facility by the owner of Sokol-Blosser, a sustainability award-winning winery at Dundee in the Willamette Valley. (Limit 48 participants)

8. METRO’s “Urban Growth Boundary”—an inside view of Oregon’s famous land-use planning system, with UGB managers. (Limit 48 participants)

9. Downtown Portland’s Historic Architecture—The tour explores the evolution of the city’s commercial architecture from the Cast Iron era (1850s-1880s) along Portland’s waterfront to the International and Post-Modern styles in the heart of today’s business and cultural district. The tour will also view other important commercial buildings, such as a grouping of early 20th century, cream colored terra cotta skyscrapers designed in the Classical Revival style. The tour will be conducted both on foot and by light rail. Led by William Willingham and Richard Engeman, architectural historians. 2.5 hours. (Limit 24 participants)

10. Portland’s Park Blocks: Defining a City by its Open Spaces—The tour will begin with a brief presentation on the founding of Portland’s park system from the first public spaces in the 1850s to the Olmstead Bros. 1903 parks plan. The Park Blocks, north and south, formed the open space “spine” of the city initially as a fire break and then as a pattern for urban development in the central city and later in the 21st century a model for linear parks in the River District Urban Renewal Area known as the Pearl District. The tour will begin in the South Park Blocks and walk through the Mid-Town Blocks to the North park Blocks and end at Tanner Springs Park in the Pearl District. Tour participants will be able to either walk back to the Conference hotel or ride the Portland Street Car from Tanner Springs. The walk will last for 90-minutes and comfortable walking shoes are recommended. Led by Henry Kunowski, architectural historian. (Limit 15 participants)
ASEH Posters
Saturday, March 13
10:00 am – 10:30 am
Posters will be available for review throughout the conference, but during this time poster presenters will be in attendance to explain their research and answer questions.

The following are the poster titles submitted as of December 4, 2009. ASEH’s poster presenters will be available to discuss their posters on Saturday, March 13, from 10:00 am to 10:30 am.

“Unexpected Environmentalists: The Presidents, the Public Lands, and the 1906 Antiquities Act,” Kurt Angersbach, Western Labs

“Filial Science: Early Bird Photography in the Progressive Era,” Cynthia A. Melendy, Framingham State College

“Engaging undergraduates in collaborative research: How past agricultural practices, the dissemination of progressive-era management ideals, and local property conventions have shaped the modern landscape of the Wells National Estuarine Research Reserve, Maine,” Michelle Steen-Adams, University of New England

“Exhibiting a River: An Environmental History of the Danube on Display,” Verena Winiwarter, Jakob Calice, Simone Gingrich, Gertrud Haidvogl, Severin Hohensinner, Martin Schmid, and Ortrun Veichtlbauer

“The Early Canada Environmental Data Project: Retrieving Environmental History,” Liza Piper, University of Alberta

“Historicizing an Interdiscipline: Swedish Mercury Science in the 1960s,” Michael Egan, McMaster University

“The Floaters in Trouble Water: Reflections on the changing cultural pattern of the traditional fishermen of Bengal,” Rup Kumar Barman, Jadavpur University

“The NiCHE Digital Infrastructure,” William J Turkel and Adam Crymble, University of Western Ontario and NiCHE

“Fishy Friends: Building Strategic Alliances in the Rigs-to-reefs Program,” Dolly Jorgensen, Norwegian University of Science and Technology

“Ecological Oral Histories of Northern Arizona: Lessons Learned,” Michele Anne James and Peter Friederici, Northern Arizona University

“A View to a Hill: Experiencing Nature through Leisure Cabin Architecture,” Finn Arne Jørgensen, Norwegian University of Science and Technology

“Sovietization of the Danube-Oder-Elbe Canal project,” Jiri Janac, Leos Jelecek and Pavel Chromy, Charles University in Prague

“A Trojan Horse in the Forest: The Ideological Construction of a Pine Invasion in the Mulanje Region of Malawi, 1923-2000,” Kathleen Fichtel, West Virginia University

“Roll of Historic Aerial Photography in Understanding Effects of Oil and Gas Infrastructure in the San Juan Basin,” Shawn William Salley and Christina Garton-Salley, Jornada Experimental Range and New Mexico State University

“Dorothea Lange and Water in Eastern Oregon: Then and Now,” Anne Whiston Spirn, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

NCPH Posters
Saturday, March 13
3:00 pm – 5:00 pm
The following are the poster titles accepted as of December 4, 2009. NCPH’s poster presenters will be available to discuss their posters on Saturday afternoon. The NCPH Call for Posters was issued in early November 2009 and closes December 10, 2009.

“The Flushing Local History Project: A Digital Community Art Project and Archive,” Meral Agish, The City University of New York, Graduate Center

“Yesteyear: Historical Blogs as Educational Tools” Elizabeth Banks and Lindsay Dumas, New York University

“Using Oral History to Document Modern Women’s History” Laura Foxworth and Kyna Herzinger, University of South Carolina

“Oral History and Beyond: An Interdisciplinary Model for Creating Oral History Documentaries in Undergraduate Classes” John Hepp and Mark Stine, Wilkes University

“Dress for Distress: Presenting Women’s History to a Museum Audience” Sara Patenaude, Washington State University

“American History for Citizenship: The National Museum of American History Brings Object-Based Learning to Citizenship Classes” Lauren Salfanek, University of South Carolina

“Prized Pieces of Land: The Impact of Reconstruction on African-American Land Ownership Lower Richland County, South Carolina” Elizabeth Almilie, Angi Bedell, Ashley Bouknight, Amanda Bowman, Lee Durbetaki, Keri Fay, J. Haley Grant, Benjamin Greene, Nathan Johnson, Amanda Roddy, Sarah Scripps, and Morgen Young, University of South Carolina

“Hillbilly Skits to Buford Sticks: Sustainable Heritage Tourism in Tennessee” Heather Bailey, Middle Tennessee State University

“Bring Your Own Caulk Gun: The Greening of the Cedar Hills Historical Society” Jennifer Betsworth, University of South Carolina

“A Regional Evaluation of the Interpretation of Slavery: The State of Independence and the First State of Secession” Amanda Bowman, University of South Carolina

“Dirt Cheap: Rammed Earth Homes and the Gardendale Experiment” Jennifer Carpenter

“Talking Inventory of Philadelphia’s African American Historic Sites” Dana Dorman, Independent Historian

“Protocols for Native American Archival Material” Kera Duggan, New York University

“Threads in Greensboro’s Past: The Mill Village Project” Miriam Farris, Christopher Jordan, and Ethan Moore, University of North Carolina at Greensboro

“The Battle of Franklin: Rediscovering the Battlefield through and Urban Landscape” Rachael Finch, Middle Tennessee State University
Randforce helps you customize and apply digital indexing methods and tools so you can...

Provide direct Access to audio and video passages (full transcriptions become optional)

Explore within and across interviews in a full context cross-referenced database

Use the richness of voice and expression in research, teaching, and multi-media presentation

Our Practice Includes:

- Community Public History Projects
- Oral History Collection Management and Use
- Oral History in Museum, Community, and Research
- Analysis of Audio/Video in Science and Public Health
- Arts, Cultural, and Performance Audio/Visual Indexing
- Educational Applications and Teaching American History Projects
- Qualitative Analysis for Meeting Recordings, Conferences, and Documentation for Non-Profit Organizations
- Multi-media Family and Corporate Oral Histories
- Bilingual Applications

Distinguished Scholar Award: Carolyn Merchant

Leopold-Hidy Prize (with Forest History Society) for best article: Emily Yeh, “From Wasteland to Wetland?: From Nature to Nation in China’s Tibet,” Environmental History, 2009.

Saturday Evening Banquet

March 13 at 7:00 PM, Pavilion Ballroom
ASEH • NCPH
Join us for this final event of our conference!

Dinner: Pacific halibut and local specialties
Speaker: Jack Ohman, political cartoonist for The Oregonian
The evening will end with a performance by the Portland State University Jazz Ensemble

No-host reception in front of Pavilion Ballroom beginning at 6:30 PM
Tickets are available at the conference registration table on the Plaza Level
Deadline for purchasing tickets: Friday, March 12 at noon

Don’t Miss the Exhibits!

ASEH • NCPH
Visit the displays from a wide variety of publishers and organizations in the Grand Ballroom, open each day throughout the conference. This is an excellent opportunity to talk with editors and to view the latest titles in public and environmental history. Coffee and tea will be available in the exhibit area during the break at 10:00 AM each morning.
2010 ASEH CONFERENCE PROGRAM
All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Wednesday, March 10

9:00 am – 4:00 pm
Oral History Workshop [ticket required]
See description in “Special Events” section.

12:00 pm – 4:00 pm
Floating Seminar [ticket required]
See description in “Special Events” section.

6:00 pm – 8:00 pm
Opening Reception [ticket required]
Cosponsored by Portland State University and Oxford University Press
See description in “Special Events” section.

Thursday, March 11

7:15 am – 8:15 am
Sustainability Breakfast [ticket required]
See description in “Special Events” section.

Concurrent Sessions 1: 8:30 am – 10:00 am

Panel 1-A: [Alexander’s – 23rd Floor]
Sovereignty, Culture, and Identity in Tribal Natural Resource Management
Chair: Brian Hosmer, University of Tulsa
Comments: Dennis Rogers Martinez, Indigenous Peoples’ Restoration Network

Jaime Allison, University of Virginia
Spaces for Redefining Identity: Expanded Sovereignty and Energy Development on the Crow Reservation

Mike Dockry, U.S Forest Service/University of Wisconsin
Menominee Environmental History and the College of Menominee Nation’s Struggle to Define Sustainability

Garrit Voggesser, National Wildlife Federation
Adapting to Change: How Tribal Historical and Cultural Knowledge Informs Tribal Natural Resource Management

Panel 1-B: [Broadway I – Plaza Level]
History and Landscapes: Making the Arctic Legible Through Science, Markets, and Religion
Chair and Comments: Liza Piper, University of Alberta

Adam M. Sowards, University of Idaho
Claiming Spaces for Science and Nature: The Canadian Arctic Expedition of 1913-18

Peter Evans, University of Cambridge
Aunt Kate’s Map, or, How the Moravians Made the Labrador Inuit Legible to the Liberal Welfare State

Panel 1-C: [Broadway II – Plaza Level]
Recreational Environments: Domestication, Authenticity, Representation, Defiance
Chair: Phoebe Kropp, University of Colorado Boulder
Comments: Audience

Peter J. Blodgett, The Huntington Library
Outdoors, Indoors and Four Doors: Automobility and the Evolving Character of Outdoor Recreation 1920-1941

Terence Young, California State Polytechnic University
Backpacking as Authentic Reconnection to Nature

Yolonda Youngs, Oklahoma State University
Editing Nature: Postcards Representations and Environmental Transformation at Grand Canyon National Park, 1900-1935

William E. O’Brien, Florida Atlantic University

Panel 1-D: [Broadway III – Plaza Level]
Nature and National Identity in the 19th Century
Chair: Alan Mikhail, Stanford University
Comments: Patty Limerick, University of Colorado Boulder

Sarah S. Elkind, San Diego State University
Water Development and Nationalism: Spain and the United States Compared

Barry Ross Muchnick, Yale University
“The Country is the Fresh Air Fund”: Environmental Citizenship in the Progressive Era

Carolin F Roeder, University of Kent/Harvard University
Nature and National Agitation in Habsburg Slovenia

Panel 1-E: [Broadway IV – Plaza Level]
Urban Landscapes: Nature and Culture
Chair: Ari Kelman, University of California Davis
Comments: Ellen Stroud, Bryn Mawr College

Nancy M. Germano, Indiana University
Urban Rivers in the Landscape: The White River in Indianapolis

Ruth D. Reichard, Indiana University
Infrastructure, Separation, and Inequality: The Streets of Indianapolis 1890 - 1930

Annie Gilbert Coleman, University of Notre Dame
Race Time: The Indianapolis Motor Speedway
Wednesday, March 10

7:30 pm – 9:00 pm
30th Anniversary Reception (Grand Ballroom II)
[ticket required]
See description in “Special Events” section.

Thursday, March 11

7:30 am – 8:30 am
New Members and First-Time Attendees Breakfast (Galleria III)
[ticket required]
*Cosponsored by Central Connecticut State University
See description in “Special Events” section.*

8:00 am – 10:00 am
Working Group 1-A: (Galleria II)
International Council on Public History? Bringing Global Public History Closer

Facilitator: Anna Adamek, Canada Science and Technology Museum

Discussants:
Justin Champion, Royal Holloway, University of London; H.A. Akku Chowdhury, Liberation War Museum (Bangladesh); Kate Christen, Smithsonian National Zoo; Andrea Etges, The John F. Kennedy Institute for North American Studies; James Gardner, National Museum of American History; Erika Gee, International Coalition of Sites of Conscience; Michelle Hamilton, University of Western Ontario; Jon Hunner, New Mexico State University; Serge Noiret, The Library - European University Institute; Jean-Pierre Morin, Treaty Relations Directorate, Indian and Northern Affairs, Canada; Linda Norris, Riverhill; Jon Olsen, University of Massachusetts; Manon Parry, National Library of Medicine-National Institutes of Health; Sonaren Phy, Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum (Phnom Penh, Cambodia); Cecilia Rusnak, Penn State University; Lisa Singleton, UNESCO’s World Heritage Centre; Ioana Teodorescu, McGill University; Montreal and Algonquin College, Ottawa; Jonathan Whalley, Independent Public Historian

The working group format is designed to facilitate substantive, focused, and extended seminar-like conversations on a particular topic. Discussants were selected from an open call in October. Prior to the conference, each has reviewed and commented by email on each other's case statements which describe what their similarly-preoccupied colleagues are doing and thinking. Working groups are open to other conference-goers who would like to sit in on the discussions, but we ask that they respect the co-chairs' need to potentially limit participation from the audience.

Facilitators:
Sheila Brennan, Center for History and New Media, George Mason University
Sharon Leon, Center for History and New Media, George Mason University
Tom Scheinfeldt, Center for History and New Media, George Mason University

Discussants:
Laryn Brown, Ancestry.com; Larry Cebula, Eastern Washington University and Washington State Digital Archives; Matthew Francis, University of Wyoming; Mitchell Koffman, Arizona State University; Kristy Martin, Idééctic; Martha Pallante, Youngstown State University; Justin Schell, University of Minnesota; Kate Thibodeau, City of Holyoke, MA; William Turkel, University of Western Ontario; Andy Wilhide, University of Minnesota

Working Group 1-B: (Parlor A)
Jump Start Your Digital Project in Public History: Planning Sessions
See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.

Facilitators:
Sheila Brennan, Center for History and New Media, George Mason University
Sharon Leon, Center for History and New Media, George Mason University
Tom Scheinfeldt, Center for History and New Media, George Mason University

Discussants:
Laryn Brown, Ancestry.com; Larry Cebula, Eastern Washington University and Washington State Digital Archives; Matthew Francis, University of Wyoming; Mitchell Koffman, Arizona State University; Kristy Martin, Idééctic; Martha Pallante, Youngstown State University; Justin Schell, University of Minnesota; Kate Thibodeau, City of Holyoke, MA; William Turkel, University of Western Ontario; Andy Wilhide, University of Minnesota

Working Group 1-C: (Galleria I)
Recycling Buildings? Reframing Historic Preservation in the Language of Sustainability and the Green Economy
See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.

Facilitators:
Leah Glaser, Central Connecticut State University
Henry Kunowski, Architectural Historian

Discussants:
Alexander Bethke, Naval Facilities Engineering Command; Kathryn Rogers Merlino, University of Washington; Victoria J. Myers, Mississippi Department of Archives and History; Carol Palmer, Palmer Research, LLC; Angela Sirna, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park; A Representative from the Cascadia Chapter, U.S. Green Building Council

8:00 am – 1:30 pm
NCPH Board of Directors Meeting (Crown Room)

8:30 am – 10:00 am
NCPH Nominating Committee Meeting (Cabinet Suite)
2010 ASEH CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Thursday, March 11

Panel 1-F: [Forum – Third Floor]
Making and Breaking Gender Roles
Chair: Mark Stoll, Texas Tech
Comments: Susan Schrepfer, Rutgers University

Kenna Archer, Texas Tech University
“Prairie-fairies, Posy-Pickers, Tree-Hugger”: Nature, Gender, and the White Male Leadership of the Radical Environmental Movement

Cecilia Gowdy-Wygant, Front Range Community College
Barbara Ward’s Environmental Leadership: Pioneering Sustainable Development and Breaking Gender Barriers

Annie Hanshew, University of Utah
“Mothering a Good Forest Fire Isn’t Easy”: Men, Women, and Smokejumping in the American West

Panel 1-G: [Council – Third Floor]
Environmental History and National Identity: Narratives, Policies and Actions in the Western Mediterranean
Chair and Comments: Tait Keller, Rhodes College

Sam Temple, University of Oklahoma
Nature on the Margins: Environment, Citizenship and National Identity in Southern France

Diana K. Davis, University of California Davis

D. Seth Murray, North Carolina State University
Cultural and Environmental Heritage in France: Contested Stories of Landscape and Identity in the Basque Countryside

Roundtable 1-H: [Directors – Third Floor]
Greening American Campuses
Chair: Michael B. Smith, Ithaca College
Roundtable Participants:
Wyatt Galusky, Morrisville State College
John Hausdoerffer, Western State College
Bonnie Bentzin, Arizona State University
S. Ravi Rajan, University of California Santa Cruz
Crystal Fortwangler, Oberlin College

Panel 1-I: [Studio – Third Floor]
The Pacific Northwest: Archives and Sources in Environmental History
Chair: Jeffrey Sanders, Washington State University
Comments: Audience

Wheelay Layman, Independent Scholar
Then and Now Aerial Views of the Canadian Columbia River 1962-2009

Patty McNamee, National Archives and Records Administration
Water Resources in Federal Records

Anne Frantilla, Seattle Municipal Archives
We Demand Immediate Action: Sources for Research on the Urban Environment in 20th century Seattle

10:00 am – 10:30 am
Coffee Break, Exhibit Hall
Cosponsored by University of Washington Press

Concurrent Sessions 2: 10:30 am – 12:00 pm

Roundtable 2-A: [Alexanders – 23rd Floor]
The Art of Writing History—and Getting Published
Chair: Nancy Langston, University of Wisconsin
Roundtable Participants:
Stephen Pyne, Arizona State University
William Cronon, University of Wisconsin
Marianne Keddington-Lang, University of Washington Press
Christine Szuter, Arizona State University

Panel 2-B: [Broadway I – Plaza Level]
“One-Sixth of the World”: Russia, Technologies, and the Natural Environment
Chair: Dorothy Zeisler-Vralsted, Eastern Washington University
Comments: John R. McNeill, Georgetown University

Andy Bruno, University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign
Railroad Colonization and the Arctic Environment in War and Revolution

Maya Peterson, Harvard University
Redistribution, Resettlement, Resistance: The Irrigation of Russian Turkestan’s Chu River Valley 1910-1918

Christopher J. Ward, Clayton State University
Pandora’s Box Reopened: The Birth, Death, and Rebirth of Sibaral

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.
Thursday, March 11

Concurrent Sessions 1: 8:30 am – 10:00 am

Panel 1-D: [Grand Ballroom II]

Spaceflight and the Environment: At the Conjunction of History and Policy

Chair: Roger Launius, National Air and Space Museum

Linda Billings, George Washington University

Sustainable Space Exploration: Good for the Universe, Good for the Earth, Good for the Nation, or Good for the Aerospace Industry?

James Fleming, Colby College

James A. Van Allen’s Role in Discovering and Disrupting Earth’s Magnetosphere, 1958-1962

Matthew Hersch, University of Pennsylvania

Kim McQuaid, Lake Erie College

Earthly Environmentalism and the Space Exploration Movement, 1970-1990: A Study in Irresolution

Panel 1-E: [Parlor B]

Oral History as Sociology and Anthropology: The Public Stories of Amputee Vietnam Veterans

David Bodenhamer, The Polis Center, IUPUI

Carrie Foote, Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis

Seth Messinger, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Mark Sothmann, Medical University of South Carolina

Panel 1-F: [Parlor C]

Creating Heritage: Public Lands and Re-Imagined Spaces

Chair: Joan Zenzen, Independent Historian

Sue Hall, University of California, Riverside

Something Terrible Happened Here: Battlefield Preservation and Interpretation in the Construction of Race, Place, and Nation

Emily McEwen, University of California, Riverside

Bureau of Livestock and Mining or Landscapes and Monuments? The Framing of the LBM’s National Landscape Conservation System

Raymond Rast, California State University, Fullerton

Chicano Space, Farmworkers’ Place: Interpreting the Legacy of César Chávez in Delano, California

10:00 am – 10:30 am

Coffee Break [Exhibit Hall]

Cosponsored by the University of Washington Press

Panel 1-A: [Grand Ballroom II]

Spaceflight and the Environment: At the Conjunction of History and Policy

Chair: Roger Launius, National Air and Space Museum

Linda Billings, George Washington University

Sustainable Space Exploration: Good for the Universe, Good for the Earth, Good for the Nation, or Good for the Aerospace Industry?

James Fleming, Colby College

James A. Van Allen’s Role in Discovering and Disrupting Earth’s Magnetosphere, 1958-1962

Matthew Hersch, University of Pennsylvania

Kim McQuaid, Lake Erie College

Earthly Environmentalism and the Space Exploration Movement, 1970-1990: A Study in Irresolution

Panel 1-B: [Galleria II]

Environmental Sites of Conscience: Exploring Issues to Inspire Visitor Action at the Environmental History Sites

See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.

Facilitators:

Erika Gee, International Coalition of Sites of Conscience

Morgan Smith, John Muir National Historic Site, National Park Service

Discussants:

Chuck Arning, National Park Service; Rolf Diamant, Mash-Billings Rockefeller National Historic Park; Beth Erdey, Nez Perce National Historical Park and Washington State University; David Glassberg, University of Massachusetts; Harry Klinkhamer, Forest Preserve District of Will County; Kate Preissler, The Trustees of Reservations; Liz Sevcenko, International Coalition of Sites of Conscience; Gregory Wilson, University of Akron

Panel 1-C: [Parlor A]

Historical Memory and the 1970s: Coming to Terms with the Transitional Decade

Tammy Gordon, University of North Carolina, Wilmington

BuyCentennial Sellabration: Market Segmentation, Mass Consumption, and Historical Memory in 1976

Amy Hay, University of Texas Pan Am

“One Objective in Life . . . to Sell Chemicals”: American Memory of Viet Nam and the Domestic Campaign against Agent Orange Herbicides

Meaghan Nappo, University of North Carolina, Wilmington

The Interpretation of the Gay Rights Movement in Public History

Ann Powers, Los Angeles Times

Curating the Experience Music Project’s Disco: A Decade of Saturday Nights
2010 ASEH CONFERENCE PROGRAM

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Thursday, March 11

Panel 2-C: [Broadway II – Plaza Level]
Electricity and Crisis
Chair and Comments: Robert D. Lifset, University of Oklahoma

Laura Hepp Bradshaw, North Carolina State University
Naturalizing Citizenship and The TVA: Electrification, Conservation, and Gender 1932 - 1940

Joseph Stromberg, University of Houston
Atomic Cowboys: The South Texas Nuclear Project and the Decline of Nuclear Power

Julie Cohn, University of Houston
Electric Power Networks and the Northeast Blackout Crisis of 1965

Panel 2-D: [Broadway III – Plaza Level]
Crisis and Contestation: The Political Economy of River Development
Chair: Craig E. Colten, Louisiana State University
Comments: Audience

Matthew Evenden, University of British Columbia
The Convenience of War: Transboundary River Development in North America 1939-1945

Craig E. Colten, Louisiana State University
Navigable Waters: Conflicting Views and Fluid Definitions

Jonathan Peyton, University of British Columbia
The Stikine-Iskat Hydro Project: Corporate Ecology and the Rise of Environmentalism in Northern British Columbia

Sara B. Pritchard, Cornell University
Ambiguities of “Development” and “Restoration”: The Upper Rhône since 1973

Panel 2-E: [Broadway V – Plaza Level]
Nature on Canvas: Landscape Art as Historical Document
Chair and Comments: David Stradling, University of Cincinnati

Gregory Rosenthal, SUNY Stony Brook
Revisiting Thomas Cole’s Catskills: An Historical Review of the Landscape Painted and Not Painted

Mark M. Chambers, SUNY Stony Brook
Penning Narratives and Sketching Illustrations: Descriptions of a North American Mining Site

Adhya Bhati Saxena, University of Baroda
Revisiting Place Apart: Kachchh in Paintings

Panel 2-F: [Forum – Third Floor]
Environmental Change on North America’s Borders
Chair and Comments: Sterling Evans, University of Oklahoma

Dan E Karalus, Northern Arizona University
Between Nature and Nations: The Borders of Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument

Kent LaCombe, Kansas State University
Freshwater Follies: The 20th Century Race for Resources in the Lake Huron Ecosystem

Eric Steiger, University of California Irvine
Constructing a Desert Borderland: Reclaiming the Colorado Desert

Panel 2-G: [Council – Third Floor]
Rural Nostalgia in Postwar France, Italy, and Spain
Chair: Linda Nash, University of Washington
Comments: Marcus Hall, University of Utah

Sarah Renee Hamilton, University of Michigan
Conservation and the Pueblos: Environmental Rhetoric and Reality on the Modern Castillian Plateau

Dario Gaggio, University of Michigan
Debating “Landscape” in Postwar Tuscany

Sarah Farmer, University of California Irvine
Peasant Life Stories and the Bourgeois Imagination of Rural Life in Postwar France

Panel 2-H: [Directors – Third Floor]
Jerusalem in America: Landscape, Faith, and Settlement
Chair: Amy Koelinger, Florida State University
Comments: Mark Stoll, Texas Tech University

Shelby M. Balik, University of Colorado Denver
Over the River and Through the Woods: New England Missionaries’ Encounters with Nature

Paul Nelson, Otterbein College
Good Christians and Bad Land: Mormon Settlement in the Canyon Country 1855-1909

Arthur Remillard, St. Francis University
Homemaking at the Headwaters: Henry Rowe Schoolcraft’s Christian Expedition to the Source of the Mississippi River
2010 NCPH CONFERENCE PROGRAM

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees. Room locations will be listed in the printed program available at the conference.

Thursday, March 11

Panel 2-E: [Parlor B]
Wood, Water, Work, and a Welcoming Public: At the Intersection of Oral History and Environmental History in the Great Lakes
Chair: James Feldman, University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh
Steven Dast and Troy Reeves, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Forest Products Lab Centennial Oral History Project: A Collaborative, Digital Endeavor
Bradley Gills, Grand Valley State University
“My Grandfather was a Businessman”: Understanding Anishnabe Lumber Workers in the Progressive Era
Aaron Shapiro, Auburn University
Minnesota Vacation Memories: Using Oral History to Explore Tourism on the Landscape
Meg Stanley, Parks Canada Western and Northern Service Centre
Reflections on a Public History of Progress

Panel 2-F: [Grand Ballroom II]
Planning for Your Future: Career Panel
Chair: Alexandra Lord, National Park Service
Laura Ettinger, Clarkson University
Matthew Godfrey, Historical Research Associates, Inc.
David Louter, National Park Service

10:30 am – 12:30 pm
Working Group 2-G: [Galleria I]
A Working Group on Employment/Experience Opportunities for Recent Graduates and New Professionals
See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.
Facilitators:
Sharon Babaian, Canada Science and Technology Museum
Katie Wilmes, National Archives Experience
Discussants:
Janna Bennett, The Children’s Museum of Indianapolis; Anthony Curtis, Kentucky Historical Society; Sharon Ehrhart, Independent Public Historian; Laura McDowell, Mitchell Museum of the American Indian; Vanessa Macias, New Mexico State University; Li Na, University of Massachusetts Amherst

1:00 pm – 3:00 pm
Working Group 3-A: [Galleria II]
How Do We Get There? Racial and Ethnic Diversity within the Public History Profession—Continuing the Discussion
See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.
Facilitators:
Calinda Lee, Emory University
Modupe Labode, Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis
Discussants: TBA

Concurrent Sessions 3: 1:30 pm – 3:00 pm
Roundtable 3-B: [Parlor B]
The Challenge of Public History—Integrating Training, Practice, and Policy
Chair: Nancy Berlage, Office of the Secretary of Defense
Lynda Denton, Texas State University
Manon Parry, National Library of Medicine-National Institutes of Health
Michael Reis, History Associates Incorporated
Kristin Szylvian, Western Michigan University

Panel 3-C: [Grand Ballroom II]
Historians Look to the Future: Embarking on a New Chapter in NCPH’s History
Cosponsored by the NCPH 30th Anniversary Committee
Chair: Allison Marsh, University of South Carolina
Suzanne Fischer, The Henry Ford Museum
Peter Kraemer, U.S. Department of State

Panel 3-D: [Parlor C]
Living History
Catherine Gudis, University of California, Riverside Literally Living History: Performance, Politics, and the Place of Nature in Los Angeles
Sarah Litvin, Lower East Side Tenement Museum
Inspecting the Past to Reform the Future
James Walsh, University of Colorado, Denver
Denver’s Romero Theater Troupe: Organic Theater, Public History, and the Working Class

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees. Room locations will be listed in the printed program available at the conference.
Thursday, March 11

Panel 2-I: [Studio – Third Floor]
Politics and Environmental Policy
Chair: Michael Egan, McMaster University
Comments: Audience

Colin A. M. Duncan, Queen’s University
Global Defrosting and the End of Cultural Relativism

Robert Denning, Ohio State University
“Time is Running Out”: Governor Ronald Reagan’s Conference on California’s Changing Environment

Daniel A. Barber, Oberlin College
The First Oil Crisis and the Modern Solar House

Martin Kalb, Northern Arizona University
Germany’s Green Party: Playing Politics for Justice

12:00 pm – 1:30 pm
Awards Lunch Banquet [ticket required]
See description is “Special Events” section.

Concurrent Sessions 3: 1:30 pm – 3:00 pm

Roundtable 3-A: [Alexanders – 23rd Floor]
The Nation-State and the Transnational Environment
Co-Chairs: David Kinkela, SUNY-Fredonia and Susan Ferber, Oxford University Press
Roundtable Participants:
Kathleen A. Brosnan, University of Houston
Erika Bsumek, University of Texas at Austin
Kerk Dorsey, University of New Hampshire
Donald Worster, University of Kansas

Panel 3-B: [Broadway I – Plaza Level]
Pacific Crossings: Receipt and Projection of Natural Resource Policy in 20th Century Japan
Chair: Eric Dinmore, Hampden-Sydney College
Comments: Margaret McKean, Duke University

Kuang-chi Hung, Harvard University
Normal Forest and Hybrid Culture: German Forestry, American Technology, and the Japanese Empire in Taiwan (1895-1945)

Higuchi Toshihiro, Georgetown University
“Learn to Live at Home”: Natural Resource Management and the American Occupation of Japan

Colin Tyner, University of California Santa Cruz
Construction of a ‘Pristine’ Environment in the Ogasawara Islands: Scientific Study and Management since 1968

Panel 3-C: [Broadway II – Plaza Level]
Heat, Light, Work, Home: Social Histories of Energy
Chair: Laura Hepp Bradshaw, North Carolina State University
Comments: Brian Black, Penn State Altoona

Joshua MacFadyen, University of Guelph
Hewers of Wood: Canadian Biomass Energy in the Age of Coal

Ruth Sandwell, University of Toronto
Households, Energy and Environment on the Canadian Shield 1890-1950

Emanuela Cardia, Université de Montréal
Household Technology: Was it the Engine of Liberation?

Panel 3-D: [Broadway III – Plaza Level]
Town, Land, River: Human-Nature Interactions in Prussia and the German Empire
Chair and Comments: Sylvia Hood Washington, University of Illinois Chicago

Tanja Zwingelberg, University of Gottingen
“Bad Air in Towns”: Sanitation in 19th century Prussia

Jana Sprenger, University of Gottingen
“They Flooded Field and Forest”: Early Modern Pest Infestations

Manuela Armenat, University of Gottingen
Regulation and Conflict: Diverse Interests on the Schwarze Elster River in the 19th and 20th Centuries

Panel 3-E: [Broadway IV – Plaza Level]
America the Garden: Horticultural Landscapes and Cultures of Capitalism
Chair and Comments: Doug Sackman, University of Puget Sound

Helen Anne Curry, Yale University
“Every Woman Her Own Burbank”: Science and Amateur Gardening 1900-1940

Tom Okie, University of Georgia
The Garden Spot of the Universe: The Commercial Transformation of Southern Horticulture, 1850-1900

Amanda Van Lanen, Washington State University
The Desert Blooms: Central Washington’s Irrigated Orchard Landscape 1890-1920
Thursday, March 11

Panel 3-E: [Galleria I]
New Perspectives on Local History

Chair: Patricia Mooney-Melvin, Loyola University Chicago
Carol Lynn McKibben, Seaside History Project
Public History in a Minority-Majority City

Edward Ragan, Valentine Richmond History Center
The Power of Place: Richmond, Virginia at the Falls of the James

Elizabeth Hoffman Ransford, Loyola University, Chicago
“At Church Next Sunday”: The Creation of Place Identity in Ravenswood, Illinois, 1869-1889

Maria Reynolds, Loyola University, Chicago
Viewing Local History in the Adirondack Park: A Departure from Regionalism

Panel 3-F: [Parlor A]
Digital Curricula in Public History

Chair and Presenter:
Jeremy Boggs, George Mason University
Public History in the Digital Age: Walking the Line between Theory and Praxis

Presenter:
Amanda French, New York University
Basic Digital Skills for Public Historians

Commentators:
Lauren Gutterman, OutHistory.org
A Student’s Perspective on Basic Digital Skills for Public Historians

Adina Langer, National September 11 Memorial Museum
A Student’s Perspective on Basic Digital Skills for Public Historians

Leah Suhrstedt, American University
A Student’s Perspective on Public History in the Digital Age

2:00 pm – 5:00 pm
The Public Historian Editorial Board Meeting [Senate Suite]

Concurrent Sessions 4: 3:30 pm – 5:00 pm

Roundtable 4-A: [Galleria II]
History 2.0: Engaging the Public in History through the World Wide Web

Chair: David Herschler, U.S. Department of State

Erin Hromada, U.S. House of Representatives
Douglas Seefeldt, University of Nebraska, Lincoln
David Sewell, The University of Virginia Press
Joseph Wicentowski, U.S. Department of State

Commentator: Stephanie Williams, U.S. Department of State

Panel 4-B: [Executive Suite]
Care and Feeding of Declining Small Towns: The Role of Local History

Jay Price, Wichita State University
Wither/Whither Route 66

Sandra Reddish, Kansas State University
Small Town Triage

Janet Timmerman, Independent Scholar
Small Town Hospice

3:30 pm – 5:15 pm
Special Event: Speed Networking [Grand Ballroom] [ticket required]

NCPH has put a professional twist on ‘speed dating’ creating stress-free networking opportunities at the annual meeting. Graduate students, recent graduates, and new professionals will have the opportunity to meet with five established public history practitioners for fifteen minute intervals. Before the buzzer sounds, participants can discuss career options, professional development, and any other aspects of the field. There is no cost for this session but registration is required. After the final rotation, participants have the opportunity to mingle in a free-flowing atmosphere. Last year’s speed networkers and anyone participating in this year’s mentor program are invited to join us for this portion of the program. Description continued on page 23.
Thursday, March 11

Panel 3-F: [Forum – Third Floor]
Mass Motorization and the Environment
Chair: Martin Melosi, University of Houston
Comments: J. Brooks Flippen, Southeastern Oklahoma State University
Federico Paolini, Università degli Studi di Siena
The Impact of the Automobile on Urban Italy
Tom McCarty, U.S. Naval Academy
Reaching the Limit
Chris Wells, Macalester College
Environmental History of Car-Dependent Landscapes

Panel 3-G: [Council – Third Floor]
Technology, Trade, and Landscape in African Forest History
Chair: Gary Marquardt, Westminster College
Comments: James Webb, Colby College
Thaddeus Sunseri, Colorado State University
Exploiting the Urwald: German Colonial Revisionism and the FAO Forest Division
Lars Kreye, University of Goettingen
Colonial Technology Transfer in Question: Agro-forestry in Germany’s Tanganyika
Chris Conte, Utah State University
Trees, Forests, and Farms: An Ocean Island Landscape in World History

Panel 3-H: [Directors – Third Floor]
Christians in Nature: Different Shades of Green
Chair and Comments: Bron Taylor, University of Florida
John Lauritz Larson, Purdue University
Enlightenment Moves: Sinners in the Hands of a Receding God
Mark Stoll, Texas Tech University,
The Cradle of Conservation: New York and the “Calvinist Crescent”
Susan Powers Bratton, Baylor University
The Spiritual Context of the Appalachian Trail: From 19th Century Protestant Christianity to 21st Century Religious Diversity

Roundtable 3-I: [Studio – Third Floor]
Human-Animal Relations in Comparative Context
Chair: Brett Walker, Montana State University
Participants:
Karl Appuhn, New York University
Fred Brown, University of Washington
Susan Jones, University of Minnesota

Concurrent Sessions 4: 3:30 pm – 5:00 pm

Roundtable 4-A: [Alexanders – 23rd Floor]
The Humanities Respond to Ecological Crises: Research – Pedagogy – Practice
(Co-sponsored by the Association for the Study of Literature and Environment and the Society for Conservation Biology)
Chair: Dominick Della Sala, National Center for Conservation Science and Policy
Roundtable Participants:
David Johns, Portland State University
Rochelle Johnson, College of Idaho
Paul Hirt, Arizona State University
Kevin Maier, University of Alaska-Southeast
Kate Christen, Smithsonian National Zoological Park

Panel 4-B: [Broadway I – Plaza Level]
Iron Horse in the Garden: Railroads and the American West
Chair: Louis Warren, University of California Davis
Comments: Donald Pisani, University of Oklahoma
Mark Fiege, Colorado State University
Iron Horses: Muscle Power and the First Transcontinental Railway
James E. Sherow, Kansas State University
Ecological Transitions and the Kansas Pacific Railway: Alexander Gardner and his Camera
Richard J. Orsi, California State University East Bay
The Ambiguous Environmental Legacy of the Southern Pacific Railroad

Roundtable 4-C: [Broadway II – Plaza Level]
Public and Environmental Histories of Petroleum
Chair: Brian Black, Penn State Altoona
Roundtable Participants:
Joseph Pratt, University of Houston
Jason Theriot, University of Houston
Tyler Priest, University of Houston
John Holt, Scottish Shale Oil Museum

Roundtable 4-D: [Studio – 23rd Floor]
Human-Animal Relations in Comparative Context
Chair: Brett Walker, Montana State University
Participants:
Karl Appuhn, New York University
Fred Brown, University of Washington
Susan Jones, University of Minnesota
Thursday, March 11

Speed Networking Sessions: 3:30 pm - 4:45 pm
Networking and Mentoring Reception: 4:45 pm - 5:15 pm.

Facilitators:
Melissa Bingmann, Director of Public History, West Virginia University
Denise Meringolo, Coordinator of Public History, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Partial list of Guests Who Networkers Will Be Meeting:
Anna Adamek, Curator, Canada Science and Technology Museum
Debbie Bahn, Archivist, Washington State Digital Archives
Val Ballestrem, Education Manager, Architectural Heritage Center
Alex Bethke, Historian at Naval Facilities Engineering Command, SW
Seth C. Bruggeman, Assistant Professor, History & American Studies Center for Public History, Temple University
Eliza Canty-Jones, Editor, Oregon Historical Quarterly
Robert Carriker, History and Geography Department Chair, University of Louisiana at Lafayette
Larry Cebula, Associate Professor, Eastern Washington University/Assistant Archivist, Washington State Digital Archives
Priya Chhaya, Program Assistant, National Trust for Historic Preservation
Janice Dilg, Consulting Historian
Kimberli Fitzgerald, Historic Preservation Consultant
Michelle Gates-Moresi, Curator of Collections, National Museum of African American History and Culture
James Hillegas, Independent Historian
Karen Kinzey, Program Manager, Holy Names Heritage Center
Roger Launius, Senior Curator, National Air and Space Museum
Cherstin Lyon, Public/Oral History Coordinator, California State University, San Bernardino
Brian Martin, President, History Associates Incorporated
Donna Neary, Director of Kentucky Civil War Sesquicentennial Initiatives, Kentucky Historical Society
Amy Platt, Project Relations Coordinator (The Oregon Encyclopedia), Portland State University
Mary Rizzo, Associate Director, New Jersey Council for the Humanities
Vivian Rose, Chief of Cultural Resources, Women’s Rights National Historic Park
Tom Scheinfeldt, Managing Director, Center for History and New Media
Donna Sinclair, Program Manager, Center for Columbia River History
Greg Smoak, Associate Professor, Colorado State University
Robert K. Sutton, Chief Historian, National Park Service
Geoff Wexler, Collections Access Manager, Oregon Historical Society
Robert Weyeneth, Professor of History and Director of the Public History Program, University of South Carolina
William Willingham, Consulting Historian, Portland, OR

3:30 pm – 5:30 pm
Working Group 4-C: [Parlor A]
Consultants Working Group
See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.

Facilitators:
Matthew Godfrey, Historical Research Associates, Inc.
Edward Salo, Brockington and Associates

Discussants:
Mary Beth Corrigan, Independent Curator; Hugh Davidson, Maricopa County (AZ) Dept. of Transportation; Walter Woodward, University of Connecticut; Morgen Young, Alder, LLC

Working Group 4-D: [Galleria I]
Public History’s Outlaws: Engaging the Histories of “Illegal” Behavior
See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.

Facilitators:
Amy Tyson, DePaul University
Andrew Urban, Emory University

Discussants:
Rebecca Amato, New York University; Heather Bailey, Middle Tennessee State University; Boyd Cothran, University of Minnesota; Jeffrey Manuel, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville; Kevin P. Murphy, University of Minnesota

Workshop 4-E: [Parlor C]
Heritage Tourism for the 21st Century: Reaching Broader Audiences through the GPS Powered Next Exit History Program

Jay Clune, University of West Florida
Patrick Moore, University of West Florida
Tim Roberts, University of West Florida

Workshop 4-F: [Parlor B]
Writing a Nomination for the National Register of Historic Places and/or the National Historic Landmarks Program

Alexandra Lord, National Historic Landmarks Program, National Park Services

5:00 pm – 6:00 pm
NCPH Committee Mixer
[Bistro 921 [located in the hotel]]
See description in “Special Events” section.
Thursday, March 11

Panel 4-D: [Broadway III – Plaza Level]
Ocean Ecology
Chair: Jay Taylor, University of Portland
Comments: Michael Chiarappa, Western Michigan University
Rachel Emma Rothschild, Yale University
A New Interest in Ocean Currents: The Carpenter-Croll Debate
Susan Lynn Smith, University of Alberta
Ocean Ecology, Ocean Dumping: Carson, Cousteau and the Environmental Legacy of World War II
Nathan T. Adams, University of British Columbia
“We Saw Mighty Whales” Nantucket Sperm Whaling, Or What Was 18th Century Ecological Understanding

Panel 4-E: [Broadway IV – Plaza Level]
Urban Protest and Sustainability on Two Continents, 1960 - 2000
Chair: Frank Zelko, University of Vermont
Comments: Scott Moranda, SUNY Cortland
Federico Paolini, University of Siena
From Environmentalism to NIMBYism: Life in Tuscany 1986-2008
Charles Closmann, University of North Florida
Save the Land, Fight for Water: Protecting the Lüneburg Heath
Dawn Biehler, University of Maryland, Baltimore County
Integrating the Urban Homes: Gender, Race, Class, and the Struggle against Household Pesticides

Roundtable 4-F: [Forum – Third Floor]
Academic Landscapes: Teaching and Environmental History
Chair: Carolyn Merchant, University of California Berkeley
Roundtable Participants:
David Lion Salmanson, Springside School
Diana Di Stefano, Bucknell University
Michael J. Altman, Emory University
Katherine O’Flaherty, University of Maine

Panel 4-G: [Council – Third Floor]
Fresh, Pure, and Unadulterated: Environmental Histories of Natural Food
Chair: Kendra Smith-Howard, SUNY Albany
Comments: Fiona Deans Halloran, Eastern Kentucky University
Susanne Freidberg, Dartmouth College
The Farthest Reaches of Fresh: Global History and Perishability
Benjamin Cohen, University of Virginia
Adulterants Detected: Deciding between Nature and Artifice in Early Industrial Food
Kathy Cooke, Quinnipiac University
Pure Air and Land: The Drive for Purity in Turn of the Century American Environmental Movements

Panel 4-H: [Directors – Third Floor]
French Environmental History: Atmosphere, Water, and Hygienism
Chair and Comments: Gregory Quenet, Universite de Versailles St. Quentin-en-Yvelines
Fabien Locher, Centre de Recherches
The First Globalization Atmosphere: The Depression, the Astronomer, and the Telegraph 1860-1914
Frederic Graber, Centre de Recherches
Speed is Quality: Assessing drinking water in late 18th and early 19th Century Paris
Jean-Baptiste Fressoz, Universite de Versailles St. Quentin-en-Yvelines
The Death of the Circumfusa: Industrialization, Hygienism and Liberalization of the Environment

Panel 4-I: [Studio – Third Floor]
“Animals are Good to Think”: Colonialism, Class, and Consumerism
Chair: Tina Loo, University of British Columbia
Comments: Audience
Frank J. Tester, University of British Columbia
Mad Dogs and (Mostly) Englishmen: Image Morphology, Cultural Transformation, and the Consumption of Inuit Culture
Jessica Wang, University of British Columbia
Mad Dogs and Other New Yorkers: Rabies, the Urban Environment, and the Politics of Animal Control 1850-1920
Tina Loo, University of British Columbia
The Unbearable Whiteness of Being: the Polar Bears of Churchill, Manitoba
Thursday, March 11

5:30 pm – 7:00 pm
Consultants Reception
[Alexander’s Restaurant and Lounge, 23rd Floor]
[ticket required]
Cosponsored by Historical Research Associates, Inc., HRA Gray and Pape
See description in “Special Events” section.

6:30 pm – 9:00 pm
Dine Arounds
Enjoy the ambience and cuisine of Portland with fellow conference participants and discuss similar interests. Local hosts or facilitators will lead small groups to nearby restaurants for an evening of conversation and networking. Sign up onsite in the conference registration area.

8:00 pm – 9:00 pm
Joint Graduate Student Reception [ticket required]
See description in “Special Events” section.

Dine Arounds
Would you like to enjoy the ambience and cuisine of Portland with fellow conference participants with similar interests? On Thursday evening, local hosts or facilitators will lead small groups to nearby restaurants for an evening of collegial conversation. Sign up onsite in the conference registration area.
2010 ASEH Conference Program

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Thursday, March 11

5:30 pm – 7:15 pm
ASEH Plenary Session (Pavilion Ballroom, Plaza Level)
Dam Removal on the Klamath: Water, Environment, Fish, Power & People

Through most of the 20th century, the benefits offered by dams held sway over the public mind. But in recent decades, a rethinking of how humans interact with the environment has brought the costs associated with dams to the forefront. In the Pacific Northwest, special attention has focused on the devastation brought by dams to spawning fish populations and to the people culturally bound to these fisheries. Recognition of such impacts has fostered (re)consideration of both the necessity of new large-scale water projects and the possibility of removing existing water control structures from the landscape.

What is happening now on the Klamath River along the Oregon/California border – where the fate of four mainstem hydroelectric power dams is the subject of intense public debate – offers an excellent prism for examining the issue of dam removal. By the early 1970s, demands on limited water supplies in the Klamath watershed sparked conflict among a diverse set of communities; these include native fishers on the upper and lower river, farmers working irrigated lands, owners of hydroelectric facilities, rate-payers of electric power utilities, and environmental groups seeking to protect threatened species and habitats. The ongoing Klamath River controversy provides an opportunity to explore how—in a specific, real world context— myriad interest groups and communities are grappling with the challenges and opportunities presented by the possibility of large-scale dam removal.

For the Plenary Session, residents and organizational representatives now involved in bringing change to the Klamath Basin will present their viewpoints and invite/spur audience comments and questions. In addition, Nancy Langston (ASEH Past President), Stephen Most (producer of the acclaimed documentary film River of Renewal) and dam historian DC Jackson will offer background and moderate the discussion.

8:00 pm – 9:00 pm
Graduate Student Reception
Registration requested to provide us with an accurate head count. See description in “Special Events” section.

Friday, March 12

7:15 am – 8:15 am
Forest History Society Breakfast [ticket required]
See description in “Special Events” section.

8:00 am – 5:00 pm
Environmental History and the National Parks Workshop
Sign up required ahead of time. See www.aseh.net ‘workshops’ Sponsored by the National Park Service
See description in “Workshops” section.

Concurrent Sessions 5: 8:30 pm – 10:00 am

Roundtable 5-A: (Alexanders – 23rd Floor)
Environmental History and the Imagination of the Future
Chair: Julianne Lutz Warren, New York University
Participants:
Laura Dassow Walls, University of South Carolina
Jon Christensen, Stanford University
Ursula K. Heise, Stanford University

Panel 5-B: (Broadway I – Plaza Level)
Perceptions of Environment in Muslim Cultures, c.1500-1900
Chair and Comments: Chris Conte, Utah State University
Sam White, Oberlin College
Natural Disaster and the Little Ice Age in European and Ottoman Perceptions
Alan Mikhail, Stanford University
Thoughts on Dogs in Ottoman Egypt
Arash Khazeni, Claremont McKenna College
The Steppe and the Sown: Natural History and Reclamation of 19th Century Central Asia

Panel 5-C: (Broadway II – Plaza Level)
Fire, Floods, War: The Nature of Urban Disasters
(Co-sponsored by the Rachel Carson Center)
Chair: Ranjan Chakrabarti, Jadavpur University
Comments: Christof Mauch, LMU Munich
Uwe Lübken, LMU Munich
Rivers and Risk: The Urban Floodplain as Contested Space
Dorothee Brantz, Technische Universität Berlin
Air War: Environmental Destruction of European Cities in World War II
Friday, March 12

7:00 am – 8:30 am
Public History Educators Breakfast [ticket required]
[Galleria III]
Cosponsored by John Nicholas Brown Center, Brown University
See description in “Special Events” section.

8:00 am – 10:00 am
Working Group 5-A: [Galleria I]
Interns to the Rescue! Public History-University
Partnerships in Financial Crisis
See the general description for working groups under Working
Group 1-A.

Facilitators:
Aaron Cowan, Slippery Rock University
Turkiya Lowe, National Park Service

Discussants:
Andrea Burns, Appalachian State University; Elizabeth
Fraterrigo, Loyola University, Chicago; Cassie Kihroy Thompson,
University of Maryland, Baltimore County and The Friends of Texas Maryland; Thomas Leary, Youngstown State University;
Larry Hassenplig, New Mexico State University; Peter Morrin,
University of Louisville; Carrie Tarasuk Gutierrez, First Division
Museum at Cantigny

Working Group 5-B: [Galleria III]
Working 9 to 5 While Practicing History on the Side
See the general description for working groups under Working
Group 1-A.

Facilitators:
Scott Hoffman, KLRU-TV, Austin PBS
Lynn Kronzek, Lynn C. Kronzek & Associates, Burbank, CA

Discussants:
Jim Conway, City of Monterey, California; Barbara Gossett, Olinda
Oil Museum and Trail; The Reverend Ray F Kibler, III, Lutheran
Intentional Interim Pastor, Claremont, California; Kristen
Luetkemeier, Nashville Adult Literacy Council and Thomason &
Associates; Susan Whipple, Old Idaho State Penitentiary; Anne Mitchell Whisnant, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY
State University of New York

M.A. and Certificate of Advanced Study in Public History

Established in 1983, our program provides training for professional careers in historical societies, museums, archives, and similar agencies.
The M.A. in Public History requires 36 credits; the Certificate of Advanced Study in Public History requires an additional 18 credits.

Program highlights:
- History academic courses taught by a doctoral faculty
- History professional courses taught by working professionals
- Archival courses taught in our Department of Information Studies
- Semester-long, full-time internships

Professional Courses Offered by the Department of History (partial list):
- Introduction to Public History
- Introduction to Historical Agency Management and Practice
- Introduction to Historic Preservation
- Material Culture Studies
- Curatorial Practices for Historical Agencies
- Interpretation of Historic Sites and Artifacts

For more information contact Ivan D. Steen, 518-442-5372 or oralhis@albany.edu.
Visit our website at: http://www.albany.edu/history/pubhist.html
2010 ASEH CONFERENCE PROGRAM

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Friday, March 12

Panel 5-D: [Broadway III – Plaza Level]
Pacific Northwest Hydropower: Private Interests and the Public Interest
Chair and Comments: John Shurts, Northwest Power and Conservation Council.

Paul Hirt, Arizona State University
Public Interest and Private Profit in the Northwest’s Hydroelectric System 1900-1930

Eve Vogel, University of Massachusetts Amherst
Protecting the Private (and Public?) Good through Public Power in the Postwar Pacific Northwest

Steven Weiss, Northwest Energy Coalition

Roundtable 5-E: [Broadway IV – Plaza Level]
Philosophes and Foresters: Ideas of Sustainability in 18th and 19th Century France
Chair: Thomas M. Luckett, Portland State University
Comments: Diana K. Davis, University of California Davis

Andrea Williams, Georgetown University
Counting Sheep: 19th Century Forestry and Pastoralism in Provence

Tamara Caulkins, University of British Columbia
Avoiding the “Dearth” of the Nobility: Buffon and the Practical Use of Natural Resources in 18th century France

Kieko Matteson, University of Hawai`i Manoa,
Duhamel du Monceau and the Foundations of Modern Conservation

Panel 5-F: [Forum – Third Floor]
Natural and Unnatural: Bodies, Health, and Space in the 20th Century
Chair and Comments: Gregg Mitman, University of Wisconsin Madison

Samantha Scott, University of California Davis
Reconstituting Seattle’s Urban Environment: Contagious Diseases and Public Health Reform at the Turn of the Century

Matti Conn, Freie Universität Berlin
The Nature of (Homo)Sexual Desire: Scientific Claims and their Legal Applications in Germany 1900-1939

Bob H. Reinhardt, University of California Davis
Smallpox Eradication and its Response 1967-2009

Panel 5-G: [Council – Third Floor]
Changing Contours of Agrarian America
Chair and Comments: Paul Sutter, University of Colorado Boulder

Philip Herrington, University of Virginia,
Makers of Pleasant Valleys: Plantation Improvement in Georgia 1830-1860

Drew Swanson, University of Georgia
Bright Leaf, Bright Prospects: Antebellum Agricultural Reform and a New Crop Culture in the Piedmont of Virginia and North Carolina

Laura Kolar, University Virginia
Frontier and Heartland: Agrarian Identity and Landscapes in Post-WWII West Virginia

Panel 5-H: [Directors – Third Floor]
Making Nature Pay: Preservation and Recreation on Public Lands
Chair: Lincoln Bramwell, U.S. Forest Service
Comments: Annie Gilbert Coleman, University of Notre Dame

Michael Childers, University of Nevada Las Vegas
Free Market Slopes: Ski Lift Tickets and Deregulation in the White River National Forest

Devon McCurdy, University of Washington
Trees and Cities: Designating Wilderness to Shape a Region

Christopher Johnson, University of Washington
Doing Well by Doing Good: REI and the Business Culture of American Environmentalism

Panel 5-I: [Studio – Third Floor]
Landscape and Regulation
Chair: Steve Fountain, Washington State University Vancouver
Comments: Audience

John Thomas Wing, CUNY, College of Staten Island
Spanish State Forestry and the Deep Historical Roots of the 1748 Forest Conservation Ordinances

Byron Eugene Pearson, West Texas A&M University
“I consider myself as Guardian...” Thomas Jefferson and the Genesis of the American Preservation Movement

Richard Wojtowicz, University of Montana
Balancing ‘the Breaks’: Opposition to the Establishment of the Upper Missouri River Breaks National Monument

Mauro Agnoletti, University of Florence
The Italian National Catalogue of Outstanding Historical Rural Landscapes
Friday, March 12

Concurrent Sessions 5: 8:30 am – 10:00 am

Panel 5-C: [Grand Ballroom II]
Walking the Walk: On-the-Ground Projects about Community, Space, and Voice
Chair and Commentator: Laura Milsk Fowler, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville
Benjamin Filene, University of North Carolina Greensboro
“Placing” Mill Village Memories
Mark Kristmanson, National Capital Commission, Ottawa
Commemoration and Cultural Landscapes: The Fall and Rise of Lebreton Flats as a Workers’ Community in Canada’s Capital
Vincent Murray, Arizona Historical Research
Uncovered Legacies: The Results of the Phoenix Asian American Historic Property Survey
Anne Valk, Brown University
Recollecting Neighborhood Life, Reconnecting Communities: The Fox Point Oral History Project

Roundtable 5-D: [Executive Suite]
The Public Historian and Its Changing Public
Chair/Moderator: Page Putnam Miller, University of South Carolina
Otis L. Graham, Jr., University of California, Santa Barbara (Emeritus)
Daniel T. Killoren, Arizona State University
Betty K. Koed, United States Senate Historical Office
Jannelle Warren-Findley, Arizona State University

Panel 5-E: [Parlor B]
Hidden Histories in Museums
Dorothea Crosbie-Taylor and Adam Nilsen, Oakland Museum of California
“Your Story Counts!”: Facilitating Storytelling in a Co-Created Exhibit
Abby Hathaway, University of Missouri, St. Louis
Fading Identities: Working Class Representation in the Heinz History Center
Tory Swim Inloes, University of California, Santa Barbara and California State University Sacramento
Changing Conceptions of Childhood and the Museum Experience

Center for Public History and Archaeology

Our collaborative research projects with the National Park Service highlight the important role of the national parks in the American landscape.

Faculty affiliates provide expertise in environmental history, historic preservation, museum studies, Native American history, and social and cultural history.

Research and employment opportunities for graduate students are available in conjunction with our M.A. program in public history.

Learn more at www.cpha.colostate.edu
Friday, March 12

10:00 am – 10:30 am
Coffee Break, Exhibit Hall

Concurrent Sessions 6: 10:30 am – 12:00 pm

Roundtable 6-A: [Alexanders – 23rd Floor]
Urbs in Horto: Urban Nature in Europe and North America
(Co-sponsored by the Urban History Association)
Chair: Matthew Klingle, Bowdoin College and Ellen Stroud, Bryn Mawr College
Roundtable Participants:
Karl Appuhn, New York University
Sean Kheraj, University of British Columbia
Monica Perales, University of Houston
Michael Rawson, Brooklyn College

Panel 6-B: [Broadway I – Plaza Level]
Poisons, Pollutants, and Professionals: Toxic Bodies and Environments
Chair and Comments: Nancy Langston, University of Wisconsin Madison
Frederick Davis, Florida State University
Unintended Consequences: Pesticides and Toxicology after the DDT Ban
David Vail, Kansas State University
Sam Duncan, Case Western Reserve
A Drink to Health: Toxic Environments, Public Health, and Bottled Water in the Age of New Ecology

Panel 6-C: [Broadway II – Plaza Level]
Environmental Disasters in China: Locusts, Fires, Earthquakes 1500-2008
Chair: Jack Patrick Hayes, Norwich University
Comments: Lillian Li, Swarthmore College
Jack Patrick Hayes, Norwich University
Fire-power and Chinese Landscapes: Fire, Warfare, and Ethnic Culture 1700-1960
Tim Sedo, University of British Columbia
Expelling Locusts in Late Imperial China
Alan MacEachern, University of Western Ontario
The Road to Strong-Willed Pig: The 2008 Earthquake and Responses to Environmental Disaster in China

Panel 6-D: [Broadway III – Plaza Level]
Navigating Canada-U.S. Water Relations
Chair and Comments: Tina Loo, University of British Columbia
Lynne Heasley, Western Michigan University
Negotiating the Great Lakes: The International Joint Commission and the Changing Ecology of Environmental Law
Daniel Macfarlane, University of Ottawa
Canadian-American Environmental Diplomacy: Creation of the St. Lawrence Seaway, 1949-1954
Philip Van Huizen, University of British Columbia
“We’ll Let No Vandal Drown You”: Environmental Activists and the 1967-1984 Canadian-American Skagit River Controversy

Roundtable 6-E: [Broadway IV – Plaza Level]
The Historiography of Over-consumption, Under-management and Sustainability
Chair: Richard Tucker, University of Michigan
Roundtable Participants:
Susan Strasser, University of Delaware
Marcus Hall, University of Utah
Martin Melosi, University of Houston
Richard Tucker, University of Michigan

Panel 6-F: [Forum – Third Floor]
Technology and Environmental Sciences
Chair: Harold Burstyn, Syracuse University
Comments: Jim Fleming, Colby College
Angelina Long, Georgia Institute of Technology
Kristoffer Whitney, University of Pennsylvania
Nets and Networks: the Technologies of Knowing and Conserving Migratory Birds
Gwen Ottinger, Chemical Heritage Foundation
The Borderland Science of Air Monitoring: Putting the Instruments of Environmental Justice in Historical Context

Panel 6-G: [Council – Third Floor]
American Agri-Technology Exports: Imperialism or a Path to Sustainability?
Chair: Sterling Evans, University of Oklahoma
Comments: Ann Li Summers, Western Connecticut State University
Linda Nash, University of Washington
From the Columbia Basin to the Helmand Valley (Afghanistan): American Engineers, Global Technoscience, and US Imperialism Post-World War II
Aubrey Adams, University of California Irvine
Modernizing Agricultural Landscapes: The Rockefeller Foundation in Mexico, 1943-1961
Michelle Mart, Penn State University Berks
The Underside of the Agricultural Revolution
Friday, March 12

Panel 5-F: [Parlor A]
What Shapes the Historical Record?

Jami Awalt and Gwyneth Thayer, Tennessee State Library & Archives
The Face of Public History in the Field: Developing Archives at the Grassroots Level

Teresa Barnett, UCLA
Sentiment or Science: The Historical Object in the Early Twentieth Century Museum

Stephanie Stegman, Arizona State University
“That were some of the papers that were destroyed...”: A Researcher’s Perspective on the State of Public Health Archives

Panel 5-G: [Parlor C]
Broadening the Horizon of Military History at Public History Sites

Chair: Gerald Herman, Northeastern University

Patrick Jennings, U.S. Military Academy, West Point
The Sound and the Fury: Challenges in Oral History

David Pfeiffer, Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis
Unraveling Hidden Stories: Exploring Uses for Military Uniforms at Public History Sites

Panel 5-H: [Oregon Historical Society, Madison Room]
Saving State History Journals

Chair: Laura Woodworth-Ney, Idaho State University

Eliza Canty-Jones, Oregon Historical Society
Kevin Marsh, Idaho State University
David Nicandri, Washington State Historical Society
Keith Petersen, Idaho State Historical Society
Todd Shallat, Boise State University

Roundtable 5-I: [Senate Suite]
Putting History to Work in the World: Launching an NCPH Video Competition

Sponsored by the NCPH Outreach Committee

Chair: Modupe Labode, Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis
All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Friday, March 12

Panel 6-H: [Directors – Third Floor]

A Delicate Balance: Development vs. Preservation

Chair: Kate Christen, Smithsonian National Zoological Park

Comments: James Skillen, Calvin College

Jonathan Anzalone, SUNY Stony Brook

Creating a Modern Wilderness Playground in the Adirondacks, 1920-1941

David Soll, Lafayette College

Catskill Water and Gotham Money: Paying to Protect a Vital Watershed

Jeff Hall, SUNY Stony Brook

---

Panel 6-I: [Studio – Third Floor]

Around the Globe: Traditional Cultures

Chair: Colin A. M. Duncan, Queen’s University

Comments: Audience

Robert E. Walls, University of South Carolina

Race, Place, and the Sasquatch: Indigenous and White Environmental Histories

Edmund J. Danziger, Bowling Green State University

The Environmental Impact of Great Lakes Reservation Indians during the Late 1800s

Mohamed Abdo Mahgoub, Alexandria University - Egypt

The Nomadic Folk Ways, Traditions and Values in Awlad Ali Tribes of the Western Desert of Egypt

Mickie L. Hudson-Koster, Rice University

Managing the Ukambani Environment: Mau Mau Oathing Purification Rites

---

12:15 pm – 5:00 pm

Field Trips [ticket required]

See descriptions in “Tours and Fieldtrips” section.

7:00 pm – 10:00 pm

Mini Film Festival

See description in “Special Events” section.

---

Saturday, March 13

6:30 am

Fun Run Fundraiser for Hal Rothman Fellowship [signup required]

See description in “Special Events” section.

---

7:15 am – 8:15 am

Envirotech Breakfast [ticket required]

See description in “Special Events” section.

---

Concurrent Sessions 7: 8:30 am – 10:00 am

Roundtable 7-A: [Alexanders – 23rd Floor]

Extinction: Meaning and Public Interpretation

Chair: Kelly Enright, Rutgers University

Roundtable Participants: Mark V. Barrow Jr., Virginia Tech

Henry Cowles, Princeton University

Thomas Joseph Doherty, Lewis & Clark Graduate School

Anne Warner, Oregon Zoo

Mark Madison, U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service

---

Panel 7-B: [Broadway I – Plaza Level]

Nature and War in China, Japan, and Korea 1941-1953

Chair and Comments: Julia Adeney Thomas, University of Notre Dame

Micah Muscolino, Georgetown University

Hell on Earth Revisited: An Ecological of Analysis of Famine in Wartime China, 1942-1943

William M. Tsutsui, University of Kansas

Life in the Ruins: Birds, Animals, and Naturalists in Wartime Japan

Lisa M. Brady, Boise State University

Devastation on All Fronts: The Korean War as Natural Disaster

---

Panel 7-C: [Broadway II – Plaza Level]

Ecological Restoration: Race, Class, Gender, and Political Voices 1860 - 1960

Chair: Dennis Rogers Martinez, Indigenous Peoples’ Restoration Network

Comments: Audience

Mary Richie McGuire, Virginia Tech

Reconstructing Tobacco Culture: Ecological Change, Race, and Gender, Prince Edward County, Virginia 1860-1880

David Tomblin, Virginia Tech

John Collier’s Vision of Native American Eco-cultural Restoration, 1933-1945: Lasting Impacts on the People and their Land

Diane L. Krahe, University of Montana

Not in my Backyard: Tribal Communities’ Rejection of the Wilderness Ideal for Reservation Lands at Mid-Century

Jared Dahl Aldern, Prescott College

Native Sustainment: North Fork Mono Stories, Land and Water Tenure History, and Ecological Restoration 1906-2009
Friday, March 12

8:30 am – 10:30 am
2011 Program and Local Arrangements Committees Meeting
[Cabinet Suite]

10:00 am – 10:30 am
Coffee Break [Exhibit Hall]

10:00 am – 12:00 pm
Working Group 6-A: [Galleria I]
Toward a New Textbook for Undergraduates in Public History
See the general description for working groups under Working Group 1-A.

Facilitators:
Cherstin Lyon, California State University, San Bernardino
Rebecca Shrum, University of Wisconsin, Whitewater

Discussants:
Donna DeBlasio, Youngstown State University; Jennifer Dickey, Kennesaw State University; Catherine Lewis, Kennesaw State University; Allison Marsh, University of South Carolina; Elizabeth Nix, University of Baltimore; Phillip Payne, St. Bonaventure University

Concurrent Sessions 6: 10:30 am – 12:00 pm

Roundtable 6-B: [Parlor A]
Here Too? Interpreting Slavery in 'Unexpected' Places

Chair and Presenter:
Andrea Reidell, The National Archives at Philadelphia
A Different Type of Freedom: Eastern State Penitentiary and Slavery

Kevin Maijala, Historic Fort Snelling
Historic Fort Snelling's Interpretive Transformation

Greg Shine, Northwest Cultural Resources Institute
The Research and Interpretation of the Monimia Travers' Story

John Willis, Canadian Museum of Civilization
A Canadian Underground Railroad

Panel 6-C:
Writing and Publishing for a Wide Audience: Dealing with Agents, Trade Presses, and Cross-over Books

Marla Miller, University of Massachusetts Amherst
Other Participants TBA
Commentator: TBD

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees. Room locations will be listed in the printed program available at the conference.
2010 ASEH CONFERENCE PROGRAM

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Saturday, March 13

Panel 7-D: [Broadway II – Plaza Level]
Rivers and Culture: The Danube and The Indus

Chair: Mark Harvey, North Dakota State University
Comments: Audience

- Martin Schmid and Verena Winiwarter, Alpen-Adria University
  The Socio-natural Site: A Concept for Environmental Historians

- Gertrud Haidvogl, Bernd Fraiss and Jurgen Eberstaller, University of Natural Resources and Applied Life Sciences Vienna
  Flood Protection Strategies and Floodplain Colonization along a Danube Tributary (Traisen River) in Lower Austria in the Late 19th and 20th Centuries

- Severin Hohensinner, Gertrud Haidvogl, Mathew Herrnegger and Mathias Jungwirth, University of Natural Resources and Applied Life Sciences Vienna
  Two River Landscapes - One Fate? The History of Austrian Danube Floodplains from the Geomorphological Perspective

- Majed Akhter, University of Arizona
  Hydraulic Infrastructure of the Indus Waterscape: A Historical Geographical Perspective

Panel 7-E: [Broadway IV – Plaza Level]
International Perspectives on Health

Chair: Donna Rilling, SUNY Stony Brook
Comments: Audience

- Nancy Farm Mannikko, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
  Water Pollution and Public Health: A Civil Engineer’s Response to a 19th Century Typhoid Epidemic

- Jennifer Naomi Tappan, Portland State University
  Public Health Discourse and the Apparent Inadequacies of the African Environment

- Samiparna Samanta, Florida State University
  Questioning the Quality of Mercy: The Butcher’s Knife and Colonial Law in 19th and 20th Century India

- Bridget Hanna, Harvard University
  Chemical Toxicity and Health in India: A Social History of Regulatory Process

Panel 7-F: [Forum – Third Floor]
Unusual Suspects: Sciences (Other than Ecology and Public Health) of Aid to Environmental Historians and Policy Makers

Chair: Lynne Heasley, Western Michigan University
Comments: Peter S. Alagona, University of California Santa Barbara

- Nancy Langston, University of Wisconsin Madison
  Epigenetics for Environmental Historians

- Angela Nugent, US Environmental Protection Agency
  By Full Daylight or Under the Streetlamp? Using Science to Understand the Environment

- Edmund Russell, University of Virginia
  The Evolution of the Industrial Revolution: New World Cottons, Amerindians, and Mechanization of the English Cotton Industry

Panel 7-G: [Council – Third Floor]
Currents in Latin American Environmental History: Mexico

Chair: Myrna Santiago, St. Mary’s College of California
Comments: Daviken Studnicki-Gizbent, McGill University, Montreal

- Emily Wakild, Wake Forest University
  Conservation and the Commons: The Mexican Case

- Bert Kreitlow, University of Wisconsin Whitewater
  Seeds of Discontent: Modernization, Ecology and a Regional Campesino School in Mexico, 1933-1941

- Christopher Boyer, University of Illinois Chicago
  Development in the Woods: Mexico 1940-1955

Panel 7-H: [Directors – Third Floor]
Industry and Environment in the 20th Century South

Chair: Paul Sutter, University of Colorado Boulder
Comments: Audience

- Will Bryan, Penn State

- Merritt McKinney, Rice University
  Fighting Air Pollution in Birmingham: Environmental Activism in the Pittsburgh of the South

- Jonathon Free, University of Kentucky
  The Movement Comes to the Cumberlands: From Civil Rights to Environmentalism in Appalachia 1963-67

- Lesley-Anne Reed, University of Georgia
  Summer of 1970: Nader’s Raiders Make Sense of Southern Reactions to the Savannah’s Paper Industry
Friday, March 12

Panel 6-D: [Parlor C]
Heritage of the World in Trust: Conservation in a Changing Climate
Chair: Priya Chhaya, National Trust for Historic Preservation
David Brown, National Trust for Historic Preservation
Liz Dunn, National Trust for Historic Preservation
Ian Fawcett, The Land Conservancy of British Columbia

Panel 6-E: [Parlor B]
Issues in Historic Preservation
Moderator: Carrie Richter, Garvey Schubert Barer
Christine Curran, Oregon State Historic Preservation Office
Preserving Buildings of the Recent Past
Cara Kaser, Oregon State Historic Preservation Office
Using Digital Tools in Historic Resource Surveys: The Oregon Survey Program
Susan Knowles and Zada Law, Middle Tennessee State University and Michael Strutt, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department
Ground Truth: What Historians Can Learn from Geography

Roundtable 6-F: [Grand Ballroom II]
Promoting Community Engagement with Service Learning
Chair: Barbara Rasmussen, Independent Consultant
Rebecca Bailey, Northern Kentucky University
Katrine Barber, Portland State University
Amy Driscoll, Carnegie Foundation
Denise Meringolo, University of Maryland, Baltimore County
Gregory Smoak, Colorado State University

Panel 6-G: [Galleria II]
Creating a National Archives and Records Administration for the 21st Century: The View from Kansas City
Chair: Amy Williams, Harry S. Truman Library
Lori Cox-Paul, National Archives and Records Administration, Central Plains Region
The New National Archives at Kansas City and the Changing Characters of the National Archive's Regional Archives System
Raymond H. Geselbracht, Harry S. Truman Library
Reinterpreting and Reinterpreting Harry S. Truman: The Changing Roles of Presidential Libraries
Karen Shaw, National Archives and Records Administration, Central Plains Region
Riding the Tiger of Electronic Records: NARA's Struggle to Preserve and Provide Access to the New Documents of the 21st Century

Roundtable 6-H: [Executive Suite]
Best of Breed? Best in Show? What's Next for the NCPH Book Award?
Chair: Howard S. (Dick) Miller, Public History Consultant
Randy Bergstrom, University of California, Santa Barbara
Katharine Corbett, Public History Consultant
Laura Feller, Independent Historian

12:15 pm – 5:00 pm
Field Trips [ticket required]
See descriptions in “Tours and Fieldtrips” section.

8:00 pm – 9:30 pm
NCPH Public Plenary Session [Grand Ballroom II]

“Adventures in Public History”
Adam Hochschild is an award-winning author and journalist who has used history to reveal the lingering effects of past injustices on the present. His most recent work, Bury the Chains: Prophets and Rebels in the Fight to Free an Empire's Slaves, was a finalist for the 2005 National Book Award. The Unquiet Ghost: Russians Remember Stalin (1994) is a deeply moving exploration of history and memory shortly after the end of the Cold War. It was primarily because of King Leopold’s Ghost: A Story of Greed, Terror, and Heroism in Colonial Africa (1998), which brought to light the horrors of Belgian colonial rule in the Congo, that the American Historical Association awarded Hochschild the 2009 AHA Theodore Roosevelt-Woodrow Wilson Prize. According to the AHA, “Hochschild’s book triggered the first open national discussion of imperial injustices and eventually spurred other investigations and let to an official apology being tendered by the Belgian government, underlining the quiet power that a well-researched and well-written story text could exert in the public sphere.” (AHA Perspectives on History, December 2008). Hochschild has been a reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle, a commentator on National Public Radio’s “All Things Considered,” and an editor and writer at Mother Jones magazine.
Wednesday, March 10

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am - 8:00 pm</td>
<td>Registration Open</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9:00 am - 4:00 pm</td>
<td>ASEH Oral History Workshop [ticket required]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:00 pm - 4:00 pm</td>
<td>ASEH Floating Seminar [ticket required]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6:00 pm - 8:00 pm</td>
<td>ASEH Opening Reception [ticket required]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7:30 pm – 9:00 pm</td>
<td>NCPH 30th Anniversary Reception [ticket required]</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Thursday, March 11

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>7:00 am – 5:00 pm</td>
<td>Registration Open</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 am – 5:00 pm</td>
<td>Exhibit Hall Open</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7:15 am – 8:15 am</td>
<td>ASEH Sustainability Breakfast [ticket required]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7:30 am – 8:30 am</td>
<td>NCPH New Members and First-Time Attendees Breakfast [ticket required]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>NCPH Working Group 1-A: International Council on Public History: Bringing Global Public History Closer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 am – 1:30 pm</td>
<td>Committee Meeting: NCPH Board of Directors</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Panel 1-A: Sovereignty, Culture, and Identity in Tribal Natural Resource Management</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Panel 1-B: History and Landscapes: Making the Arctic Legible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Panel 1-C: Recreational Environments: Domestication, Authenticity, Representation, Defiance</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Panel 1-D: Nature and National Identity in the 19th Century</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Panel 1-E: Urban Landscapes: Nature and Culture</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Panel 1-F: Making and Breaking Gender Roles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Roundtable 1-H: Greening American Campuses</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:30 am – 10:00 am</td>
<td>ASEH Panel 1-I: The Pacific Northwest: Archives and Sources in Environmental History</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Schedule at a Glance

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.
SCHEDULE AT A GLANCE

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

NCPH Panel 4-B: Care and Feeding of Declining Small Towns: The Role of Local History

3:30 pm – 5:15 pm: Speed Networking [ticket required]
   - Speed Networking Workshop (3:30-4:45)
   - Networking and Mentoring Reception (4:45-5:15)

3:30pm – 5:30pm: Sessions

NCPH Working Group 4-C: Consultant’s Working Group

NCPH Working Group 4-D: Public History’s Outlaws: Engaging the Histories of “Illegal” Behavior

NCPH Workshop 4-E: Heritage Tourism: The GPS Powered Next Exit History Program [ticket required]

NCPH Workshop 4-F: Writing a Nomination for the National Register/NHL Program [ticket required]

5:00pm – 6:00pm: NCPH Committee Mixer

5:30pm – 7:15pm: ASEH Plenary Session:

5:00pm – 6:00pm: NCPH Committee Mixer
   - NCPH Committee Mixer

6:30 pm – 9:00 pm: Special Event: [ticket required]
   - Receptions

5:30 pm – 7:00 pm: NCPH Consultants Reception [ticket required]

6:30 pm – 9:00 pm: Special Event: Dine Arounds [sign up at the conference]

8:00pm – 9:30pm: NCPH Public Plenary Session [ticket required]

8:30 pm – 10:00 pm: NCPH Workshop 6-H: A Delicate Balance: Development vs. Preservation

12:15 pm – 5:00 pm

FIELD TRIPS [ticket required]
1. Columbia River/Bonneville Dam
2. Birding at Sauvie Island on Columbia River
3. Fort Vancouver and Cathalopote Plankhouse
4. Tryon Creek State Natural Area
5. Bicycle tour of Portland
6. Mt. St. Helens Visitors Center at Silver Lake (Ends at 6:00 pm)
7. Organic Winery Tasting and Tour
8. METRO’s “Urban Growth Boundary”
9. Walking Tour – Architecture of Downtown Portland
10. Walking Tour – Explore Portland Parks

7:00 pm – 10:00 pm: Special Event: ASEH Mini Film Festival

Saturday, March 13

8:00 am – 12:00 pm: Registration Open

8:00 am – 5:00 pm: Exhibit Hall Open

7:15 am – 8:15 am: NCPH Public History Educators Breakfast [ticket required]

10:00 am – 10:30 am: Coffee Break

10:00 am – 12:00 pm

NCPH Working Group 6-A: Toward a New Textbook for Undergraduates in Public History

10:30 am – 12:00 pm

ASEH Roundtable 6-A: Urbs in Horto: Directions in Urban Environmental History

ASEH Panel 6-B: Poisons, Pollutants, and Professionals: Toxic Bodies and Environments

ASEH Panel 6-C: Environmental Disasters in China: Locusts, Fires, Earthquakes 1500-2008

ASEH Panel 6-D: Navigating Canada-U.S. Water Relations

ASEH Roundtable 6-E: The Historiography of Over-consumption, Under-management and Sustainability

ASEH Panel 6-F: Technology and Environmental Sciences

ASEH Panel 6-G: American Agri-Technology

Exports: Imperialism or a Path to Sustainability?

ASEH Panel 6-H: A Delicate Balance: Development vs. Preservation

ASEH Panel 6-I: Around the Globe: Traditional Cultures

NCPH Roundtable 6-B: Here Too? Interpreting Slavery in ‘Unexpected’ Places

NCPH Panel 6-C: Writing and Publishing for a Wide Audience

NCPH Panel 6-D: Heritage of the World in Trust: Conservation in a Changing Climate

NCPH Panel 6-E: Issues in Historic Preservation

NCPH Roundtable 6-F: Promoting Community Engagement with Service Learning

NCPH Panel 6-G: Creating a National Archives and Records Administration for the 21st Century

NCPH Roundtable 6-H: What’s Next for the NCPH Book Award?

10. Walking Tour – Explore Portland Parks

7:00 pm – 10:00 pm: Special Event: ASEH Mini Film Festival

8:00pm – 9:30pm: NCPH Public Plenary Session: Adam Hochschild

Saturday, March 13

8:00 am – 12:00 pm: Registration Open

8:00 am – 5:00 pm: Exhibit Hall Open

6:30 am: ASEH Fun Run Fundraiser for Hal Rothman Fellowship [signup required]

7:15 am – 8:15 am: ASEH Envirotech Breakfast [ticket required]

8:00 am – 10:00 pm: NCPH Workshop 7-H: Publish, Share, Collaborate, and Crowdsource Collections: Zotero 2.0 [ticket required]
SCHEDULE AT A GLANCE

All sessions and events are open to all conference attendees.

Saturday, March 13

8:00 am – 10:00 am
NCPH Working Group 7-B: Connecting Academic Training with the Changing Marketplace
NCPH Working Group 7-H: Publish, Share, Collaborate, and Crowdsource Collections: Zotero 2.0 [ticket required]

8:30 am – 10:00 am
ASEH Roundtable 7-A: Extinction: Meaning and Public Interpretation
ASEH Panel 7-B: Nature and War in China, Japan, and Korea 1941-1953
ASEH Panel 7-C: Ecological Restoration: Race, Class, Gender, and Political Voices 1860-1960
ASEH Panel 7-D: Rivers and Culture: The Danube and The Indus
ASEH Panel 7-E: International Perspectives on Health
ASEH Panel 7-F: Unusual Suspects: Sciences [Other than Ecology and Public Health] of Aid
ASEH Panel 7-G: Currents in Latin American Environmental History: Mexico
ASEH Panel 7-H: Industry and Environment in the 20th Century South
ASEH Panel 7-I: Ecology, Capitalism, and Historical Materialism
NCPH Panel 7-C: Dealing with the Dead
NCPH Roundtable 7-D: Interpreting Sport and Leisure to Enhance Sustainability Cancelled
NCPH Panel 7-E: Native/Non-Native Partnerships and the Politics of Public Memory
NCPH Roundtable 7-G: Reconciling War and Violence

ASEH Roundtable 7-A: Extinction: Meaning and Public Interpretation
ASEH Panel 7-B: Nature and War in China, Japan, and Korea 1941-1953
ASEH Panel 7-C: Ecological Restoration: Race, Class, Gender, and Political Voices 1860-1960
ASEH Panel 7-D: Rivers and Culture: The Danube and The Indus
ASEH Panel 7-E: International Perspectives on Health
ASEH Panel 7-F: Unusual Suspects: Sciences [Other than Ecology and Public Health] of Aid
ASEH Panel 7-G: Currents in Latin American Environmental History: Mexico
ASEH Panel 7-H: Industry and Environment in the 20th Century South
ASEH Panel 7-I: Ecology, Capitalism, and Historical Materialism
NCPH Panel 7-C: Dealing with the Dead
NCPH Roundtable 7-D: Interpreting Sport and Leisure to Enhance Sustainability Cancelled
NCPH Panel 7-E: Native/Non-Native Partnerships and the Politics of Public Memory
NCPH Roundtable 7-G: Reconciling War and Violence

ASEH Roundtable 7-A: Extinction: Meaning and Public Interpretation
ASEH Panel 7-B: Nature and War in China, Japan, and Korea 1941-1953
ASEH Panel 7-C: Ecological Restoration: Race, Class, Gender, and Political Voices 1860-1960
ASEH Panel 7-D: Rivers and Culture: The Danube and The Indus
ASEH Panel 7-E: International Perspectives on Health
ASEH Panel 7-F: Unusual Suspects: Sciences [Other than Ecology and Public Health] of Aid
ASEH Panel 7-G: Currents in Latin American Environmental History: Mexico
ASEH Panel 7-H: Industry and Environment in the 20th Century South
ASEH Panel 7-I: Ecology, Capitalism, and Historical Materialism
NCPH Panel 7-C: Dealing with the Dead
NCPH Roundtable 7-D: Interpreting Sport and Leisure to Enhance Sustainability Cancelled
NCPH Panel 7-E: Native/Non-Native Partnerships and the Politics of Public Memory
NCPH Roundtable 7-G: Reconciling War and Violence

10:00 am – 10:30 am
ASEH Poster Session
Coffee Break

10:30 am – 12:00 pm
ASEH Roundtable 8-A: Climate Crisis and Energy Transition: Lessons from History?
ASEH Panel 8-B: Environmental Dimensions of World War I
ASEH Panel 8-C: Ecological Dimensions: Race, Class, Gender, and Eco-political Identity
ASEH Panel 8-D: Bordering Waters
ASEH Panel 8-E: City—and Civic—Environment
ASEH Panel 8-F: Green Knowledge and Greening Politics: Science and Environmental Policy
ASEH Panel 8-G: Latin American Currents: Iberian Transformation, Agrarian Reform, Tropical Disease
ASEH Panel 8-H: Shaping Southern Landscapes and Minds
ASEH Panel 8-I: Across the Pacific: Cross-boundary Influences
NCPH Roundtable 8-A: The State of History in the National Park Service: A Progress Report
NCPH Roundtable 8-B: Anticipating Mine Fields during the Civil War Sesquicentennial
NCPH Roundtable 8-C: Overlooked Voices
NCPH Panel 8-D: Interpreting Environmental History for Public Audiences at State and Federal Levels
NCPH Panel 8-E: Neighborhood and Community Involvement in Historic Preservation
NCPH Panel 8-F: Community of Records in the Age of New Media: Family History as Public History
Committee Meeting: NCPH Consultants Committee

12:00 pm – 2:00 pm
NCPH Awards Luncheon [ticket required]

1:30 pm – 3:00 pm
ASEH Roundtable 9-A: Forty Years after Earth Day: The U. S. Environmental Movement
ASEH Panel 9-B: Environmental History of Warfare: World War II in Asia
ASEH Roundtable 9-C: Progress or Plunder: Exchanging Ideas on the Great Basin
ASEH Panel 9-D: Water Projects, Water Policy
ASEH Panel 9-E: Ecological Transformation Across Three Continents
ASEH Panel 9-F: Environment...Science...Policy in the Depression
ASEH Panel 9-G: Latin American Currents: Jaguars, Horticulture, Biodiversity
ASEH Panel 9-H: How Southern Environmental History Affects America/World
ASEH Roundtable 9-I: Women in Post-World War II Environmentalism

2:30 pm – 4:00 pm
NCPH Panel 9-A: Telling the Story, Engaging the Public: Some New Approaches
NCPH Panel 9-B: Confronting Ugly Legacies of Racism and Violence
NCPH Panel 9-C: Remembering Indigenous History
NCPH Panel 9-D: Places of Contention: Blair Mountain Battlefield in West Virginia
NCPH Panel 9-E: A Gullah/Geechee Heritage Awakening and the Role of Public Historians
NCPH Panel 9-F: Urban Rediscoveries: Historical Changes on Seattle’s Former Tideland

3:00 pm – 5:00 pm
NCPH Poster Session and Reception

3:30 pm – 5:00 pm
ASEH Roundtable 10-A: Redefining Ecology: Social Inequalities and Constructing Environments
ASEH Panel 10-B: Militarization of Landscapes: South Africa, Vietnam, American Northwest
ASEH Panel 10-C: Body and Health in the U.S. West
ASEH Panel 10-D: Co-ops, Camping, and Hiking
ASEH Panel 10-E: Putting People Back Into Wilderness
ASEH Panel 10-F: Debating Climate Change in 18th-c. Russia, Scotland, and the British Empire
ASEH Roundtable 10-G: Field Trips and the Industrial Environment
ASEH Panel 10-H: Environment & Economics in the Pacific Northwest
ASEH Roundtable 10-I: Publishing Your First Book: A Discussion with Four New Authors

4:30 pm – 6:00 pm
NCPH Panel 10-A: Doing Public History on the Last Frontier Cancelled
NCPH Panel 10-B: Interpreting the Multiple Histories within “Wilderness” Landscapes
NCPH Panel 10-C: Mining Landscapes and Their Publics
NCPH Panel 10-D: Making Historic and Natural Places for and against the Automobile

4:30 pm – 6:30 pm
NCPH Working Group 10-E: Public Historians’ Role in the Civil War Sesquicentennial
NCPH Workshop 10-F: Omeka: An Open Source Tool for Publishing Cultural Heritage Online

5:30 pm – 6:00 pm
ASEH Business Meeting

6:30 pm – 7:00 pm
No-Host Reception

7:00 pm – 9:00 pm
Junction Banquet [ticket required]